Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. (SKINNY) SKIRVIN

Fem friend touring the redwoods fails to enthrall with Joyce Kilmer over trees, and in a letter to a friend of a friend of mine hopes "that she will never see another dog gone redwood tree." You know it takes a long time to get through the redwoods, and my fem friend became saturated with their multiplicity. Or at least I am supposed to think so.

If you get hurt and you can't go to the police force, the police force will come to you, perhaps under the direction of Lieutenant B. A. Hershey. His first aid crew is ready to cruise day or night when accidents happen and give first aid in emergencies. Being a policeman from the "billy" from the old days of the "billy" and the rough stuff. Motorcycle officers now carry first aid kits, pick up instructions over radio, control traffic, chase speeders, and sometimes get hurt. You cuss 'em when they catch you violating the law, and praise them when they extricate you from a wreck. It's a good work when they catch a thief, and you wonder where they were when they didn't. They have athletic training, and some of them go to church. Say, how'd you like to be a policeman?

There is one thing certain. You can bet your sweet life, or even a sour one, that the tax collector will find the forgotten man.

When I see a man walking along looking down at the earth, I am persuaded he is searching for truth, with the percentage against him.

Love flies out the window when the pay check fails to come in the front door.

Ed Durling recently discussed in his column, "On the Side," the question of love and what it is? It's the phantom that moves out when the overdraft notice moves in.

Ted Cole tells me that a Nebraska visitor in Southern California became infatuated with our dandelion, took some back to Aurora, Neb., planted them in the lawn, and now the citizens of that town have found out what perpetual motion really is.

Now that we have been furnished with a survey of the worst year in the Orange industry's history, why not give us the report on the best year of the industry's history. It would at least be interesting for comparison.

Vic Rowland comes through with the romance of garlic, and concludes there isn't any romance. First time I've agreed with Vic. His explanation does credit to the Encyclopedia Britannica, and for a biological back-to-life movement he's got Sally Rand beat two fans. Anyway, Vic couldn't get his answer until he quizzed the ladies of the jayses campus and there by, or from, was disillusioned. I knew about the absence of romance all the time. I just wanted to give Vic an opportunity to get the feminine slant. It might help the social approach.

State Forester Joe Scherman's request for caution on the part of cigarette smokers and campers, in order to lessen the forest fire hazard, should receive the cooperation requested. It takes a long time to grow a tree.

When the sailing is smooth, or you are able to make all the hills on high; when the problems of life are easily solved and the vicissitudes met with laughter and success, don't get the idea that you can overcome all the trials and emerge with profit and pleasure in every case. Proceeding on the theory that "sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof," will sooner or later get you into trouble. There have been rainy days in the past, there will be in the future. The caution to lay up something for the lean years is the voice of wisdom. Conversing with a friend yesterday, somewhat along philosophical paths, he related pathetic incidents of his observation, which included some personal friends, proving the folly of "eat, drink and be merry" for tomorrow we may be somewhere else. The daily papers frequently relate how idols of screen and business and culture have become engulfed in the swirling waters of experience, and become the objects of charitable friends. You often find them on the seventh floor back, crushed, broken and forgotten. You can't put an old head on youth, but you can put a guide post on the highway of life with the index finger pointing to the harbor of common sense and security. CEDILLO EVADES FOE IN BUSH U. S. Probe of Jersey City, Aim

CHIEFTAIN TWICE FLEES FEDERALS

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico. (P) Swarthy rebel chieftain Saturnino Cedillo was hidden somewhere in the bush eight miles northwest of this state capital today, closely pursued by federal troops after two narrow escapes from capture. Four followers who escaped with him by plane from Zozotlan (Mockingbird) ranch, his hideaway headquarters northeast of Palomas, when surprised yesterday by federal troops, were reliably though unofficially reported to have been captured.

The soldiers of President Lazaro Cardenas, beating back and forth through the brush covered hills, declared the capture of Cedillo himself was imminent.

A high army officer expressed the belief Cedillo would attempt to escape the net by working northward toward the United States.

Observers at the scene asserted laconically "it's about over," and said that with capture of Cedillo his eight-day rebellion would collapse quickly.

His two fast transport planes had fallen into government hands. One was found abandoned in a cornfield near Estanzuela, eight miles northwest of here.

From it Cedillo and four followers had fled, leaving a disarray of handbags and clothing in the cabin and gasoline for six hours flight in its tanks.

The other was captured by Gen. Reynaldo Perez Gallardo, one time chief of the garrison at Cedillo's estate, Las Palomas, when he surprised the leader in the Huasteca hills at Zozotlan.

Perez Gallardo reported to War Minister Manuel Avila Camacho that "the traitor Cedillo managed to escape in the other white airplane in the direction of El Salto."

Every indication was of hurried flight. A rural school teacher nearby had five suitcases which had been left behind, and he turned them over to the fliers.

A. J. M'FADDEN, ORANGE CO. MAN, HEADS STATE CHAMBER

Re-election of A. J. M'Fadden of Santa Ana, prominent Orange county citrus grower, as president of the California state chamber of commerce, was announced today following a meeting of the board of directors in San Francisco.

M'Fadden first was elected president of the state chamber a year ago. Other officers named to serve with him for the coming year: Harrison S. Robinson, Oakland, first vice-president; Preston Hotchkiss, Los Angeles, second vice-president; A. E. Roth, San Francisco, third vice-president; and Joseph R. Knowland, Oakland, treasurer.

S. F. Bund Leader Fired From Job

PRAHA PEACE TALK RESUMED

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia. (P)—Czechoslovakia's restless German minority today resumed peace talks with the government on the eve of municipal elections which were watched tensely in fear of new war-breeding border disorders.

Representatives of the Sudeten German party, leaders of most of the 3,500,000 Germans within Czechoslovakia, were received by Premier Milan Hodza for a lengthy consultation.

The Nazi-supported Sudeten Germans were represented by Ernst Kundt and Franz Peters, Sudeten members of parliament.

The consultants agreed to carry out a regular schedule of conversations aimed at reaching a definite solution of minority demands for self-government, particularly in the Sudeten region fringing Czechoslovakia's 1300-mile frontier facing Germany.

WASHINGTON. (P)—Jim Farley will turn 50 Monday in the middle of one of the toughest years of his political career.

The man who directs the political fortunes of the Democratic party and holds down the job of postmaster general faces revolt in his own ranks and growing strength in those of Republican opponents.

PACT STILL BINDS ALL, HE ASSERTS

WASHINGTON. (P)—Secretary Hull reminded Europe's half-trigger nations today that the Briand-Kellogg pact for the renunciation of war is no less binding today than when it was signed in Paris 10 years ago.

With an eye on the tense German-Czechoslovakian situation, the secretary of state explained he was re-emphasizing the anti-war pledge at this time because he wanted no false interpretation of United States policy to grow up.

"ANXIOUS ATTENTION" This nation, he said, has been following recent developments in central Europe with "close and anxious attention."

"We cannot shut our eyes to the fact that any outbreak of hostilities anywhere in the world injects into world affairs a factor of general disturbance, the ultimate consequence of which no man can foresee."

In his statement, Hull said: "Nearly 10 years ago the government of the United States signed at Paris a treaty providing for the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy."

63 SIGN TREATY "There are now parties to that treaty no less than 63 countries. In that treaty the contracting parties agree that 'the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.' That pledge is no less binding now than when it was entered into. It is binding upon all of the parties."

"We can not shut our eyes to the fact any outbreak of hostilities anywhere in the world injects into world affairs a factor of general disturbance, the ultimate consequence of which no man can foresee and is liable to inflict upon all nations incalculable and permanent injuries."

"The people of this country have in common with all nations a desire for stable and permanent conditions of peace, justice and progress, and a most earnest desire that peace may be maintained no matter where or in what circumstances there may be controversies between nations."

POMPOON LOSES AT BELMONT

NEW YORK. (P)—Snark, 5-year-old son of Boojum from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley stable, nosed out J. H. Louchheim's highly regarded Pompoon in the 52nd running of the Suburban handicap at Belmont park today.

John A. Manfuso's Aneroid, last year's winner, trailed by another three lengths for third money in the field of six.

Ridden by Johnny Longden, Snark came from behind in great stretch drive and outgamed Pompoon in the final strides to win the purse of $17,050 and pay 6 to 1.

Pasadena Surgeon Killed in Mishap

BAKERSFIELD. (P)—Dr. Allen Buckner Kanavel, 63, prominent Pasadena surgeon was killed near Mojave yesterday in an automobile accident.

A colonel in the United States medical corps during the World war, Dr. Kanavel was a former president of the American College of Surgeons.

He was killed when the automobile in which he was riding left the highway and overturned. He was en route to the High Sierras on a fishing trip.

GRIEF APLENTY FOR FARLEY ON 50TH BIRTHDAY

WASHINGTON. (P)—Jim Farley will turn 50 Monday in the middle of one of the toughest years of his political career.

The man who directs the political fortunes of the Democratic party and holds down the job of postmaster general faces revolt in his own ranks and growing strength in those of Republican opponents.

The only special celebration of the anniversary will be a small party arranged for late Monday at his New York home. Farley has been there for several days.

Until next November, he probably will divide his time between Washington and traveling about the country, endeavoring to keep the party organization intact.

The situation is vastly different from that of the last election year, 1936, when party organization and President Roosevelt's personal popularity carried every state except Maine and Vermont, giving the Democrats unprecedented majorities in congress.

The breach caused by the court bill fight last year and the struggle over the reorganization bill this year, coupled with the fact that the presidential election is not until 1940, bring in new elements of uncertainty. Some Democratic leaders concede privately that the Republicans probably will recapture a number of house seats.

So Farley, with an eye on 1940, labors to make sure losses are held to a minimum.

HULL WARNS EUROPE OF WAR

ADDRESS BY LAWMAKER THWARTED

WASHINGTON. (P)—Representative Jerry O'Connell (D., Mont.) said today he would ask President Roosevelt to take some personal action in behalf of an investigation of alleged infringements of civil liberties in Jersey City, N. J.

Returning from his second unsuccessful attempt to address a mass meeting there in defiance of Mayor Frank Hague, the 29-year-old congressman said he had been invited to the White House to "discuss the situation" and would make an appointment as soon as possible.

WIFE BRUISED O'Connell's first statement on reaching Washington this morning was "I'm glad to be back in America." He was accompanied by his wife, who said she was badly bruised when knocked down by two policemen in the crowd which assembled at Pershing field last night.

The Montanan termed "an absolute lie" the description of the meeting which Daniel Casey, Jersey City director of public safety, was quoted as giving.

The congressman described Police Chief Harry Walsh, who directed O'Connell's seizure, as "an old-fashioned type of policeman who wants to badge you all the time."

"WHITE AS A SHEET" Declaring that Jersey City police "probably saved his (O'Connell's) life by rescuing him from the enraged crowd," Casey said: "He was as white as a sheet and trembling like a leaf when I met him. He told me 'I want to thank you for saving my life.' He told me he had come to Jersey City believing his sponsors had a lot of friends here, but when he reached Pershing field he was convinced he was entirely alone against a mass of people."

"I told him he was entirely free to go if he wished to make his speech, but I advised him against doing so because of the temper of the crowd. He said, 'No business. If I ever loved seeing a policeman it was when they saved me from that crowd.'"

NOT FOR A MILLION "When it was suggested he was free to leave the station house he said, 'I wouldn't go out in that crowd for a million dollars,' and he waited until we furnished him with a car and an escort."

"At the police station," O'Connell said, "both Casey and Walsh tried to convince me what a splendid mayor Frank Hague was, that the people of Jersey City were with him because of his great administration."

"I told them that to labor and progressives and liberals in Jersey City and all over the United States Hague was a disgrace to his city, his state and party."

WAR ADMIRAL OUT OF RACE

NEW YORK. (P)—Samuel Riddle's War Admiral, the favorite, was scratched today from the 52nd running of the $20,000 suburban handicap in which he was scheduled to meet Pompoon and six other turf titans over a mile and a quarter at Belmont park.

After inspecting the track, soaked by recent rains, Trainer George Conway decided the racing strip not suitable for the Admiral's first start since winning the $50,000 Widener challenge cup at Hialeah park early in March.

The scratching of the Admiral left Pompoon as the choice to win the classic.

Sen. Harrison Says President 'Misinformed' About New Tax Bill

TREASURY TO ASK COMPLETE OVERHAULING

WASHINGTON, (P)—Senator Harrison (D., Miss.) declared today President Roosevelt was "misinformed" in his criticism yesterday of the 1938 tax bill.

Mr. Roosevelt permitted the bill to become law without his signature in order to emphasize his disapproval of various changes made in the tax structure including principally revision of the undistributed profits and capital gains levies. These changes he assailed in a speech at Arthurdale, W. Va.

Harrison, chairman of the finance committee who guided the five billion dollar revenue measure through senate approval, said the new flat rate capital gains levy provides "progressive taxation" and gives "the little fellow" a "better deal" than he had received since 1921.

The treasury disclosed today that the administration will ask the next congress to overhaul the federal tax laws completely, codifying and simplifying them as well as incorporating business levies favored by President Roosevelt.

A spokesman said the department wanted the laws rewritten to make them easier for taxpayers to understand and for officials to administer.

President Roosevelt was understood to have three major tax objectives:

1. Reinforcement of the undistributed profits tax to make it unprofitable for large corporations to withhold dividends in order to reduce income taxes of their large stockholders.

2. Revision of the tax on capital gains to apply graduated rates according to the amount of capital gains. Capital gains are the profits realized from purchase and subsequent sale of such things as securities and real estate.

3. Removal of income tax exemptions from future federal, state and local securities and salaries.

Check Passer Must Serve One Month

Dale Miles, 21, arraigned on a charge of passing a fictitious check at the Main street market, Santa Ana, was found guilty in Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison's court today and sentenced to a month in jail with five more months suspended on good behavior. He must report to Santa Ana justice court once every month during the next two years.

Mrs. Miles, a minor arrested on a similar charge, has been certified to the juvenile court, and is awaiting trial June 3.

Four Arrested on Varied Charges

Petty theft charges landed Russell and Raymond Adkins, 204 East 84th street, Los Angeles, in the county jail today.

Don Byrnes, 1925 West Washington, Santa Ana, was booked on driving while intoxicated.

Fred Grote, 932 Iverton, Los Angeles, was jailed on a fictitious check charge.

Bad Settlement Better Than None, Court Informed

A bad settlement is better than a good lawsuit, Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen was told yesterday afternoon by N. D. Meyer, Santa Ana attorney.

The judge wasn't quite so sure, but he finally approved settlement for $80 of a claim in favor of Leola Worthington, 20-year-old Santa Ana beauty operator. Miss Worthington's car was involved in an accident Jan. 26 on 101 highway near Anaheim with a car driven by J. W. McCormick, who offered the settlement.

Judge Allen remarked that costs to Miss Worthington were apparently more than the amount of settlement, but approved the compromise after Mrs. Luella Worthington, the mother, said she thought it was fair.

'Nuisance' Tax Wiped Out By New Law; Income, Liquor, Other Levies Are Revised

WASHINGTON, (P)—The new federal tax which became effective last midnight wipes out a group of "nuisance taxes" and revises business taxes.

On July 1, the treasury will stop collecting these taxes: Tooth paste, soaps, and other toilet articles, 5 per cent; furs, 3 per cent; phonograph records, 5 per cent; sporting goods, 10 per cent; cameras and lenses, 10 per cent; chewing gum, 2 per cent; matches, 2 cents per thousand on plain wooden and one-half cent per thousand on paper matches.

The only new excise tax will be an increase, also on July 1, from $2 to $2.25 per gallon on newly manufactured liquor.

The revised income tax laws, including provisions dealing with undistributed profits and capital gains, apply to 1938 income, upon which returns must be filed by March 15, 1939.

These changes, in brief:

Individual income—no change in rates or coverage except as to capital gains.

New law includes in ordinary income all of capital gains realized in less than 18 months, minus similar capital losses, and permits excess of 18 month losses over gains to be carried over to following year; includes in ordinary income two-thirds of capital gains taken in from 18 to 24 months, with maximum tax rate on these gains of 20 per cent and permission to credit excess capital losses against other income; half of capital gains realized in more than 24 months with maximum tax rate of 15 per cent and permission to credit excess losses against other income.

Corporation income—old law provided normal tax on profits of 8 to 15 per cent plus 7 to 27 per cent tax on undistributed profits. New law provides single tax of 12 1/2 to 16 per cent on profits of corporations earning less than $25,000 in year; intermediate rates on corporations close to the $25,000 line; flat tax of 19 per cent on profits of larger corporations, less credit of 2 1/2 per cent of amount of profits distributed to stockholders, thus making 16 1/2 per cent minimum tax on corporation distributing all profits.

The last provision to go in effect will be a reduction from $5000 to $4000 in the gift tax exemption, beginning next year.

Santa Anan Hurt

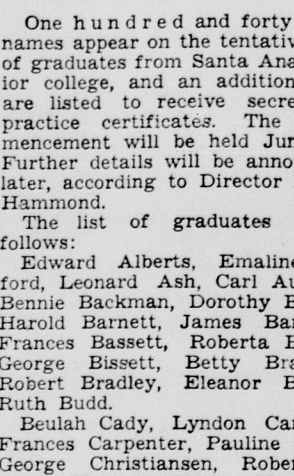

PHILADELPHIA, (P)—The Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. sent to its 276 presbyteries today a proposal to revoke a 300 year old church law that participation in war was permissible on "just and necessary occasions."

The church's general assembly approved the plan to leave the question of engaging in war strictly to the individual conscience.

The presbyteries will vote whether to substitute for the old seventeenth century law a new chapter in their confession of faith decrying war as a "manifestation of the power of sin in the world."

"Even when war is waged with sincere purpose to restrain evil, it tends to produce greater evils than those against which it is directed," the amendment reads.

Adventurous Youths Sought In Stolen Yacht

Three adventurous 'teen-age youths, heeding the call of the sea, were believed headed for Honolulu in a yacht reported stolen from Santa Cruz, Calif., their home. Coastguardsmen sought the trio, including James Henniger (right) 17, by air and sea. The yacht, the Tira, is shown at left with Mrs. Lew Foote, wife of the owner, aboard.

EAGLES SEAT OFFICERS OF NEWEST AERIE

One hundred charter signers launched the Santa Ana aerie of Fraternal Order of Eagles, in the process of organization here for several months, at an installation ceremony in Gonzalez hall last night.

Deputy Grand Worthy President Forrest B. Owen of Costa Mesa was the installing officer, and he inducted the following charter officers into the organization:

Lyle Anderson, junior past worthy president; F. Naylen Jacob, worthy president; H. C. Collins, worthy vice president; Ora Jennings, worthy chaplain; James E. Walker, secretary; Chriss Hinton, treasurer; Harry Fink, conductor; Dr. J. B. Price, acacia physician; Neer, outside guard; and Henry Beiser, Dell Liggett and Morris Cain, trustees.

The new organization will hold its second meeting next Wednesday, at which time 50 additional members are scheduled to be initiated, and a permanent meeting place will be chosen.

The Santa Ana aerie was organized by Charles A. Barnhart, national Eagle organizer.

J. M. Backs Estate Is Distributed

Final distribution of the estate of J. M. Backs, veteran county clerk who died suddenly last October, was approved today by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

The court approved distribution of Mr. Backs' $4525.40 personal estate to the widow, Mrs. Ella Backs. The property consists of real estate in Anaheim, Seal Beach and Lake county.

Not involved in the personal estate was $21,600 worth of property and securities held by the widow in joint tenancy, which already had been set aside to the widow.

Non-Suit Move in Will Case Denied

S. M. Davis, Santa Ana attorney, who is respondent in a will contest in the $29,000 estate of the late Sarah Stevenson, today had lost a motion for non-suit as trial of the case was continued to Tuesday.

The motion, made by L. A. West and B. Z. McKinney as attorneys for Davis, named executor in Mrs. Stevenson's will, was denied by Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warner of San Bernardino, hearing the contest. Eleven heirs are attacking the will, on grounds that Mrs. Stevenson was incompetent to dispose of her property and that Davis used "undue influence" on her.

Inquiry Ordered in Hospital 'Boom'

SACRAMENTO, (P)—State Director of Institutions Harry Lungens today ordered a survey made in state hospitals to determine the reason for a 16 per cent increase in the number of patients admitted during the first four months of this year as compared to the same period two years ago.

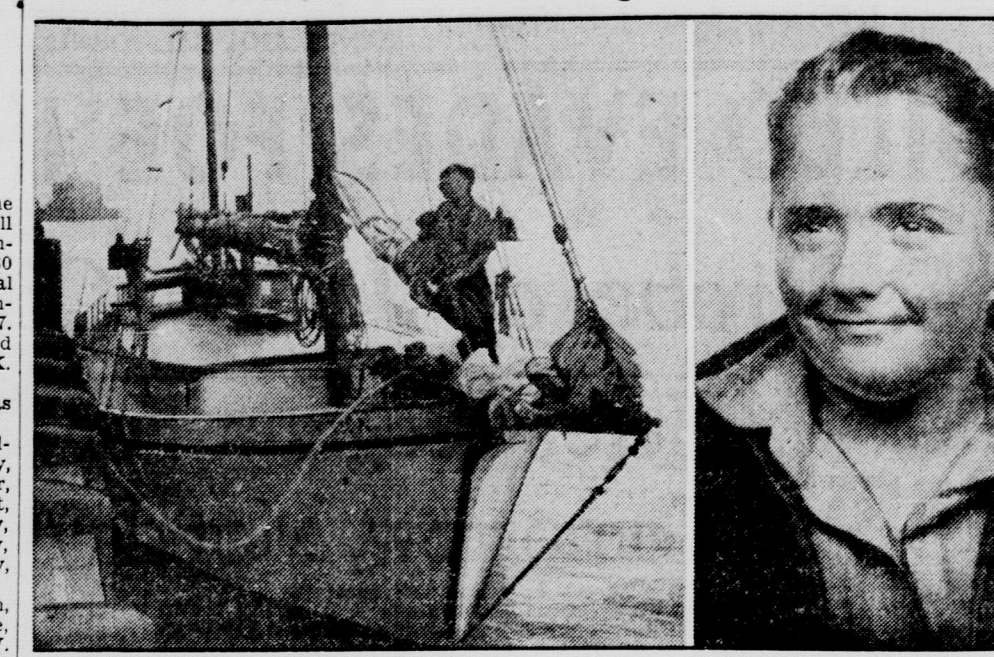

Commitments to hospitals in Southern California, the institutions director declared, were 30 per cent higher in the first four months of 1938 than in the same period in 1936.

Again Mooney Case In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, (P)—The supreme court had under consideration today for the third time a petition by Thomas J. Mooney, seeking release from San Quentin penitentiary where he is serving a life sentence for complicity in the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness day bombing.

Mooney asked the court to review a decision by the California supreme court denying him a writ of habeas corpus.

GRADUATES OF ADULT SCHOOL MEET JUNE 4

Students of the adult education department of the Santa Ana city school system are invited to a dinner and entertainment at Willard Junior high school at 6 p. m. next Saturday.

Special guests at the affair will be the nine students from Willard and Lathrop evening high schools who are to receive their diplomas during the evening, and school officials, including members of the board of education.

Guests will be introduced during the dinner hour by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education. Later in the evening the gathering will go to the auditorium where W. W. Wieman, principal of Lathrop Evening high school, will present the graduating class and President George Wells of the school board will be in charge of giving out the diplomas.

The graduates are: Frank C. Adams, Mildred M. Cady, Charles B. Harper, William Henry, Joseph Holzknecht, Burnette Lane, Dolores Madrid, Richard Frederick Wolford, and William Clark Sackman.

The entertainment to follow will include a Spanish dance to be staged by the junior college pupils, Jean McKamy and Virginia Wilson. The women's double trio from the Cecilia singers will render several selections. Those taking part will be Elizabeth Morgan, Alice Martin, Joy Brisco, Margaret Knight, Violet Hillyard, Laura Joim, and Esther Vogt Gordon as accompanist.

The community players will present a satirical comedy, "Three No Trumps," written by Mrs. Frank Was and to be directed by Gladys Shafer. The cast includes: Gertrude Horn, Helen Wieseman, Betty Jo Willis and Robert Horn.

School officials, who will be special guests at the affair, include: Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Frank Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. George Wells, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Youel, Mr. and Mrs. Ridley Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harlow, Dr. Margaret Baker and Dr. W. P. Baker, Wells, Youel, Smith, Harlow and Dr. Margaret Baker are members of the school board.

IRVINE ESTATE PROBATED

Probate proceedings in the estate of James Irvine, jr., were officially closed today.

Final distribution of the $60,000 personal estate left by the son of James Irvine, owner of the 100,000-acre Irvine ranch, was approved by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

Cash on hand, according to the petition for distribution by the widow, Mrs. Athalie Richardson Irvine, and the assets of the estate, totaled $7470.74. The estate has been in probate since shortly after Mr. Irvine's death June 23, 1935, and most of it already had been distributed.

Property subject to probate and taxation was appraised at $59,390.29, but other assets of the wealthy rancher's son included $132,000 in life insurance and a trust of 200 shares of Irvine company stock held by his father. Under terms of the will, the property went to the widow and their small daughter.

Hervey was studying a copy of Menton's petition for a writ of mandate directed against Sheriff Logan Jackson and designed to get an appellate court test of the constitutionality of the ordinance, in which the board of supervisors attempted to collect fees formerly held by five officials.

Meanwhile Recorder Fred Sidebottom issued a statement advising the stand of the fee collecting officials, saying no expensive litigation was necessary to force him to turn over fees, and that his offer to settle the dispute with supervisors had been ignored.

"We had a nice visit," commented Menton after Hervey had visited his office, talked over the petition and left for San Diego.

"I understand Menton doesn't want me," said Hervey before the conference, "but I'm going to do some work on this case."

Hervey will get 27 1/2 per cent of any impounded fees he succeeds in collecting, necessary for San Diego county treasurer, and also will get 27 1/2 per cent if the fees are paid voluntarily as a "compromise."

In the first place, Sidebottom said, he has no fees to turn over. Fees paid into the county treasury to his credit have not been collected by him since the salary ordinance was passed, he pointed out.

"All I want is a ruling (that collection of the fees by the county is legal)," Sidebottom said. "I stand ready to cooperate in every way possible to find a way through the difficulty. . . . I advised the county supervisors in the beginning. . . . that I stood ready to follow whatever legal method could be determined upon for relinquishing my fees."

$150 Compromise in Unusual Accident

Damages in a freak accident caused indirectly by the March 3 flood had been compromised to day with a $150 payment by the Pacific Electric railway to 4-year-old Mary Varela.

Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen approved the compromise yesterday afternoon on petition of Juan A. Varela, the girl's father.

The flood, Varela explained, had damaged wiring in a crossing signal at New Hope road. The signal didn't ring, and Varela's car collided with a gasoline motor-car driving along the railroad. The girl's face was scarred by windshield glass cuts.

'Prince' Romanoff Gives Up Ambition To Become Actor

HOLLYWOOD, (P)—"Prince" Mike Romanoff has renounced to such an extent that he doesn't even want to pretend to be an actor.

The ex-impostor was to play himself in "Ellis Island," a movie based on his experiences. After one day's filming, he gave up.

Gregory Ratoff will replace Romanoff today.

din" when he talked about thrift and the inevitable rainy day.

There is a lot of talk these days about hidden taxes. By golly, the tax collector has always been able to find mine.

William Talmadge, a Manteno, Ill., farmer, walked into a tavern and ordered a drink. The bartender announced that the drinks were on the house. Talmadge dropped dead. Please, Mr. Bartender if I do come in for a drink, let me pay for it.

Fred Shute comes all the way from Afton, Iowa, to tell me that I have low score on boils. He had seven. Disobeyed mother, like most of us did when we were so much smarter than mother. Went hunting, refused to dress properly, arrived home with skin abrasions. What he got for his disobedience was over the curtain had gone up seven times. But, says Fred, guess it was worth it. "I haven't been sick since."

Check Passer Must Serve One Month

Dale Miles, 21, arraigned on a charge of passing a fictitious check at the Main street market, Santa Ana, was found guilty in Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison's court today and sentenced to a month in jail with five more months suspended on good behavior. He must report to Santa Ana justice court once every month during the next two years.

Mrs. Miles, a minor arrested on a similar charge, has been certified to the juvenile court, and is awaiting trial June 3.

Four Arrested on Varied Charges

Petty theft charges landed Russell and Raymond Adkins, 204 East 84th street, Los Angeles, in the county jail today.

Don Byrnes, 1925 West Washington, Santa Ana, was booked on driving while intoxicated.

Fred Grote, 932 Iverton, Los Angeles, was jailed on a fictitious check charge.

Bad Settlement Better Than None, Court Informed

A bad settlement is better than a good lawsuit, Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen was told yesterday afternoon by N. D. Meyer, Santa Ana attorney.

The judge wasn't quite so sure, but he finally approved settlement for $80 of a claim in favor of Leola Worthington, 20-year-old Santa Ana beauty operator. Miss Worthington's car was involved in an accident Jan. 26 on 101 highway near Anaheim with a car driven by J. W. McCormick, who offered the settlement.

Judge Allen remarked that costs to Miss Worthington were apparently more than the amount of settlement, but approved the compromise after Mrs. Luella Worthington, the mother, said she thought it was fair.

'Nuisance' Tax Wiped Out By New Law; Income, Liquor, Other Levies Are Revised

WASHINGTON, (P)—The new federal tax which became effective last midnight wipes out a group of "nuisance taxes" and revises business taxes.

On July 1, the treasury will stop collecting these taxes: Tooth paste, soaps, and other toilet articles, 5 per cent; furs, 3 per cent; phonograph records, 5 per cent; sporting goods, 10 per cent; cameras and lenses, 10 per cent; chewing gum, 2 per cent; matches, 2 cents per thousand on plain wooden and one-half cent per thousand on paper matches.

The only new excise tax will be an increase, also on July 1, from $2 to $2.25 per gallon on newly manufactured liquor.

The revised income tax laws, including provisions dealing with undistributed profits and capital gains, apply to 1938 income, upon which returns must be filed by March 15, 1939.

These changes, in brief:

Individual income—no change in rates or coverage except as to capital gains.

New law includes in ordinary income all of capital gains realized in less than 18 months, minus similar capital losses, and permits excess of 18 month losses over gains to be carried over to following year; includes in ordinary income two-thirds of capital gains taken in from 18 to 24 months, with maximum tax rate on these gains of 20 per cent and permission to credit excess capital losses against other income; half of capital gains realized in more than 24 months with maximum tax rate of 15 per cent and permission to credit excess losses against other income.

Corporation income—old law provided normal tax on profits of 8 to 15 per cent plus 7 to 27 per cent tax on undistributed profits. New law provides single tax of 12 1/2 to 16 per cent on profits of corporations earning less than $25,000 in year; intermediate rates on corporations close to the $25,000 line; flat tax of 19 per cent on profits of larger corporations, less credit of 2 1/2 per cent of amount of profits distributed to stockholders, thus making 16 1/2 per cent minimum tax on corporation distributing all profits.

The last provision to go in effect will be a reduction from $5000 to $4000 in the gift tax exemption, beginning next year.

MENTON TO GO TO BAY CITY

District Attorney W. F. Menton will travel to San Francisco Monday night to appear in Orange county in appeal proceedings before the United States circuit court in the long-fought Standard Judging company case, involving harbor bottom land in Newport bay.

The case grew out of the government's Newport Harbor development, with Mrs. Sarah Newcomb, owner of the under-water land, opposing dredging. The Standard firm, holder of the government contract, obtained an injunction against her; the county posted a $25,000 bond guaranteeing payment of damage, and the controversy still is before the courts.

Menton will attend a state convention of district attorneys in Monterey beginning Wednesday, and plans to return here the following Sunday.

Plea For Contempt Charge Against Bascom Dismissed

COURT ORDERS NOT VIOLATED, JUDGE ASSERTS

Attempts by R. L. Wilhelm, Los Angeles accountant, to have Assistant Cashier J. L. Bascom of the First National bank jailed for contempt of court had fizzled today.

Superior Judge G. K. Scovel yesterday afternoon dismissed Wilhelm's petition for an order holding Bascom in contempt because he refused to continue testimony in a deposition.

"There has been no order of this court violated," the judge said. "Mr. Bascom can't be in contempt unless he does violate some court order. If you could have a man held in contempt for refusing to continue a deposition which he has merely agreed to give, you could do the same thing with a man who would you a bill."

Fred Forgy, Santa Ana attorney who Wilhelm charged with a "ruse" to prevent Bascom from finishing the deposition, needed no argument. Judge Scovel dismissed the case after inspecting Wilhelm's petition and affidavit.

Wilhelm, not an attorney, is pleading his own case against the bank, which he is suing for $3000 for services he says he performed in 1933. Bascom testified for several hours at the deposition hearing, then failed to appear the next day.

Wilhelm, who said his nervous condition was precarious, Wilhelm then demanded that the banker be jailed for contempt. He lost since Bascom was testifying under agreement, and not under a subpoena or other court order.

It was hash day at the Santa Ana really board's weekly luncheon yesterday.

Round table discussion took the place of a speaker, and the board referred a resolution on business and legal rights of realtors, drafted by the national association of real estate boards, to its board of directors for appropriate action.

Tabbed a letter from the Ingiewood board asking endorsement of a request that FHA appraisals be boosted to include brokers' commissions.

Authorized Secretary Marie Gothard to investigate the cost of a new banner, which probably is worn out by now anyway, apparently was abandoned at the last convention.

Declined, for lack of detailed information, to endorse a contractor's proposal to build a unit of 50 low-cost FHA houses in the southern part of the city.

Decided to hold a picnic in mid-July, featuring a baseball game between realtors and title company men.

Church Group at Alamitos Home

ALAMITOS.—Mrs. Margaret Miller, president of the Friends church, Missionary society, was hostess for the monthly meeting Thursday, entertaining the members at her home on Dale avenue.

Mrs. Nellie Amos led the devotional services and told the story of Moses.

A potluck dinner was planned for June 24 at the home of Mrs. Alma Nida. Delegates to the recent general conference at Whittier gave their reports and Mrs. May Scott was appointed delegate to the church yearly meeting to be held soon at Whittier.

Compromise or New Trial, His Choice

Charles Melvin Martin, who won a $7000 judgment against the F. Woolworth company, has chosen to sell his milk containing glass chips, must settle for $4500 or go through another trial.

Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, hearing arguments on a defense motion for new trial yesterday afternoon, told Martin's attorney, Fred Forgy, he would grant the motion on grounds of excessive damages unless Martin would remit $2500 from the judgment. The motion was urged by O. A. Jacobs, attorney for the Woolworth company in whose Santa Ana store Martin said he purchased the malted milk Aug. 10, 1937.

Club to Entertain

COSTA MESA.—Townsend club No. 3 will be host at an entertainment and social period next Tuesday evening, in the Townsend hall, on Newport boulevard. The purpose of the occasion will be to welcome new members, received during the past few weeks.

SERVICE STATION LOOTED

Merchandise valued at $11 was stolen from the McMillan Service station, on highway 101 one mile east of Tustin, around 5 a. m. today, Charles C. Gray, proprietor, reported to the sheriff's office.

A stick, the burglar broke a window and removed cigarettes, cigars, oil, candy bars and matches.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Santa Ana Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street will be the scene of another Townsend mass meeting at 7:30 tonight. George Newland, Long Beach, will be the main speaker. Santa Ana club No. 2 is sponsoring this meeting in lieu of the meeting next Monday night. Because Monday is Memorial Day, Club No. 2 will not meet that evening according to L. C. Carlisle, publicity program member. The public is cordially invited to be present to hear tonight's speaker who comes highly recommended. It is his first appearance here.

Pinkney H. Webb, member of the Huntington Beach club No. 1 and his daughter, Mrs. Mary Wilson and three-year-old son, who have been visiting during the last week at the home of Mrs. English, 218 Third street, Huntington Beach, left for Groveland, Calif., Thursday morning. Miss Octavia R. Webb, who manages a beauty salon at 238 North Coast blvd., Laguna Beach, also a daughter of Mr. Webb was also a Wednesday overnight guest in the English home. She returned to her work Thursday morning.

Mrs. Flora A. Dolbee, treasurer, of Santa Ana club No. 5 and Mrs. Maude Miller, secretary, have been elected as delegates to the Los Angeles Townsend national convention. Mr. Charles Balsey and Mrs. Irene McAdoo have been named as alternates. Next Thursday evening, May 31 this club will hold a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 p. m. in the social hall of the Richmond M. E. church at South Park and Richmond streets. Walter R. Raugh, president will preside over a business meeting which will be conducted in the church auditorium at 7:30 following the dinner.

The Emancipator magazine in its "Food for Thought" column has this comment to make on the 2% Townsend transaction tax: "Any good business man would gladly pay 2 per cent for an increase in business at any time. All will gladly do so when they learn that this method reduces all their other taxes, pays off the national debt, and puts the government on a cash pay-as-we-go basis. This will be a little hard on loan sharks, money lenders, and all those who prosper on the misfortunes of the people who create all the wealth, the basis of all money. It will, however, save the government from bankruptcy, and abolish poverty in our land of an abundance for all."

A letter from Mrs. Ida A. Freeman informs this column that Anaheim club No. 1 has held its last meeting in its Townsend club building at 210 South Clementine street which has been used as a meeting place during the last two years. The club is moving its headquarters to 224 East Center.

DISASTER LOAN OFFICES HERE CLOSED TODAY

The Santa Ana office of the Federal Disaster Loan corporation closed today.

S. L. Rodgers, field representative for the organization said that persons seeking further business with the corporation should visit or write the Los Angeles headquarters, 1017 Pacific National Building, 315 West Ninth street. J. F. Seeley is in charge there.

Since the Santa Ana branch office was opened in the Ramona building last March, 72 applications for loans were filed by persons or firms suffering loss from the March 3 flood. Of these, only six have been refused. Nearly 25 have been approved, aggregating $25,000.

H. L. Wakeham of Tustin and J. J. Dwyer of Anaheim, representatives of the Orange County Farm Debt Adjustment Bureau, have assisted Rodgers in operating the local unit of the organization. Miss Angie LeGakes has been Rodgers' secretary.

Certificates Given 13 Student Nurses

Standard first aid certificates have been awarded by the American Red Cross to 13 student nurses at Orange county hospital who have completed first aid courses taught by Dr. Thomas B. Rhone, first aid chairman of the Orange Red Cross chapter.

The awards went to Phoebe Clark, Barbara Fennimore, Jean Fraser, Ida Mae Hartman, Carol Ketchum, Olive Nadey, Evelyn Neher, Rena Neill, Marguerite Outary, Beryl Talent, Lucile Watkins, Marion Whitney and Doris Yost.

Concert of Sacred Music Tomorrow

A concert of sacred music will be given by the Orange county Christian Endeavor union chorus assisted by the Rohrs brothers quartet at the First Evangelical church tomorrow at the 7:30 p. m. services.

The Misses Dempsey and Lola Pride and Elizabeth Morgan will sing two numbers with Miss Louise Tate at the organ. This chorus is composed of 50 voices and comprises some of Orange county's native talent. Cecil Jeffrey will direct the chorus.

CHICKENS STOLEN

Chicken thieves were reported at the Floyd Marsh place, Seventeenth and Orange streets, Costa Mesa, yesterday. The sheriff's office investigated, finding the door open but no chickens missing.

DRIVING TEST TO BE GIVEN PUPILS HERE

Santa Ana high school pupils will be examined on their automobile driving abilities when a testing apparatus arrives here next week. The equipment will be assembled at the school May 31 and June 1. On June 2 and 3 it will be transferred to 605 North Main and the public will be invited to use it.

The device examines drivers on their color vision, color blindness, depth of focus, angle vision, speed estimation and reaction, brake reaction and steering ability.

It is brought here on request of Elmer Heidt, chairman of the city traffic safety commission, and other committee members. Dr. Roy S. Horton, member of one of the committees working with the commission, issued the following statement this morning concerning the examinations of high school youngsters:

"It is our hope to test school children in Santa Ana for their fitness as automobile drivers and incidentally impress upon their minds the part they can play in bringing about a decrease in the number of highway deaths.

"It is interesting to note some of the facts established by reliable investigation. In 93.1 per cent of the fatal accidents, the automobile was in good condition. In 97.3 per cent of the fatal accidents, the driver had a year or more experience in the operation of a motor vehicle. In 67.5 per cent of the fatal accidents, the driver was between the ages of 25 to 64, and in 28 per cent the driver is between the ages of 18 and 24 years. This leaves a total of 4.4 per cent to be accounted for by drivers under 18 and 65 or over.

"Also we are shown the 85.7 per cent of these accidents occur when the weather conditions are ideal. Of all the drivers in fatal accidents, only 7.3 per cent had been drinking. These above facts, then cover the most commonly accepted causes for fatalities; some faulty mechanism in the automobile; experience of the operator; age of the operator; weather conditions; finally, sobriety of the operator."

DAY'S FINES TOTAL $124

Fines totalling $124 were levied, and $59 were paid by City Judge J. G. Mitchell in Santa Ana police court yesterday.

Hayes Scott, San Bernardino, was fined $50 for reckless driving and failure to appear. He was booked at the county jail with Walker Finley also was committed, in lieu of a $15 fine for intoxication.

Howard Cole, Riverside, paid $8 for speeding; J. Eugene Walker, Santa Ana, $4 for four citations for over-time parking; Jack Lentz, 1325 Grace street, $2, no muffler; Ernest Housley, 1043 East Palmyra, Orange, $2, for failure to observe boulevard stop; Gail Harmon, 1101 West Seventeenth street, $5 for five over-time parking citations; William M. Mulholland, 1315 West Third street, $2 for failure to observe boulevard stop; W. S. Sebastian, 730 Orange avenue, $6 work order for speeding; Veri Schork, 128 E. Whiting, Fullerton, $10 for speeding, and Donald Ferguson, 419 East Emily street, Anaheim, $10 for speeding.

4 Superior Courts Conducted in Day

County supervisors' quarters in the courthouse were packed with emergency service as a courtroom yesterday afternoon, as four superior judges occupied the bench here.

Judge Benjamin F. Warner of San Bernardino was hearing a will contest in department one; Judges James L. Allen and G. K. Scovel held court in departments two and three.

Judge H. G. Ames held juvenile court in his jury room yesterday morning, then heard his law and motion calendar in the supervisors' room.

Hollywood Radio Evangelist Here

Rev. Karl G. Sabiers, known as Hollywood's radio evangelist, will be the guest speaker at the Four-square church tomorrow evening at services starting at 7:30 p. m. The sermon topic will be, "Where Are the Dead?"

The title of his sermon is the name of a book he recently completed on the subject. He will give Bible answers to questions on this subject.

Five Journal Boys Will Visit Yosemite; But Which Ones??

Five Santa Ana Journal carrier boys will receive a week's free outing amid the natural scenic wonders of Yosemite as the guests of the circulation department of this paper, and 30 others will win additional trips for obtaining subscriptions in a new contest started today.

When your carrier calls on you within the next few days, he will tell you how you can assist him to win one of these trips. Points will be awarded as follows: each new two months' subscription, 200 points; each new three months' subscription, 300 points; each new three months' subscription paid in advance, 400 points. The boys will also receive 200 points for each increase in the number of subscribers they show on their routes during the contest period.

The five boys standing the highest at the close of the contest will go to Yosemite on a trip paid by The Journal, including traveling expenses, lodging, food and recreation while there.

The next five highest boys will have a three-day trip to the mountains. Boys in eleventh to fifteenth places in the contest will be guests of The Journal on a horse back ride and party in Irvine park. Those with standings from 16 to 35 will enjoy a Journal-sponsored wiener bake at the beach.

ACTION ON HOG FARM PETITION AWAITED HERE

Decision of the state railroad commission was awaited today on efforts by the L. and N. Feeding corporation, operator of a large hog ranch at Talbert, to get a state certificate as a common carrier of garbage in Los Angeles, Kern and Orange counties.

Vigorously opposed by Orange county and by officials of cities which would be affected by the proposed garbage-collection route, the application was classed as tending to create a monopoly in a hearing Thursday before Examiner Leo Paul of the commission.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton, Health Officer Dr. K. H. Sutherland and Livestock Inspector Dr. J. H. Bower represented the county at the hearing, with Supervisor John Mitchell of Garden Grove, long-time enemy of the hog ranchers, as an observer.

Joined by the Orange county hog ranchers' association, represented by Charles D. Swanner of Santa Ana, cities of Los Angeles, Long Beach, Glendale, Santa Monica, Alhambra and Inglewood opposed the certificate as a monopoly not within the jurisdiction of the commission.

They contended the commission never has granted a franchise for garbage hauling and that the applicant would be hauling its own property under a common-carrier certificate, since it seeks to buy garbage.

(Traffic questions should be sent to Chief Cato, at Sacramento. Answers will appear in this paper at an early date.)

Q. I notice my new operator's license does not have a place for me to sign it. I once was told that the law required that I sign the operator's license or that it would not be valid? N. D. B.

A. This previously was true. Under the new forms issued you are given a copy of your original application which contains a facsimile of your signature.

Q. Is it possible for me to secure a duplicate of my operator's license which was destroyed by the laundry last week? F. J. V.

A. Yes; upon making proper application, for a duplicate of any license, lost, destroyed or mutilated.

Q. For what length of time are operator's licenses good? MRS. E. L.

A. Those now being issued are good for four years.

Q. What is the speed limit in any public park? M. C.

A. The prima facie speed limit is 15 miles per hour upon any portion of a highway in any public park which passes through any public playground or past any building or other place of public assembly.

Q. Do drivers of public owned vehicles have to obey traffic laws the same as the rest of us? G. T. J.

A. Indeed they do. This includes emergency vehicles, as well. No one has any right to operate any vehicle upon the highways without due regard for the safety of all others. Under no circumstances are they absolved from blame when they arbitrarily exercise privileges extended to emergency vehicles.

Q. Are red lights permitted to be used on ambulances when they are moving slowly and after having ended an emergency call? A. No. Having ended their emergency the red lights should not be used.

Q. Recently I have been noticing some cardboard license plates on cars? Is this something new? MISS E. P. G.

A. Yes, this is a new method of identifying cars in all cases where a permit is issued in lieu of license plates for an automobile, truck, trailer or semi-trailer, but not for motorcycles. This is to enable officers to more readily check up on vehicles operating with emergency permits, after the expiration date of the permit.

CASE OF SMALLPOX

The first case of smallpox to come to the attention of the county health officer for nearly two weeks was reported yesterday to Dr. K. H. Sutherland. The person afflicted lives several miles from San Juan Capistrano.

GROCERY PRICE WAR CASE TO GO TO TRIAL

Charges that Joe's Grocery and the Empire market violated the California Unfair Practice act by selling goods below cost must be aired in a superior court trial.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames yesterday afternoon overruled defense demurrers to injunction suits against the two super markets, paving the way for an answer by owners of the stores and trial on the accusations.

The charges, first legal dynamite in a "food war" among markets here, were made by the Food and Grocery Bureau of Southern California against J. F. Hershiser, proprietor of Joe's Grocery, and Merritt Hagan and George B. Winfrey, partners in the Empire market.

Franklin G. West, attorney for the markets, argued yesterday afternoon that the bureau's complaints were insufficient in that allegations were made not directly, but on "information and belief." Judge Ames held the complaints sufficient.

West has 15 days in which to file a formal answer after which the case will be set for trial. Judge Ames already had held the Unfair Practices act constitutional in issuing temporary injunctions preventing the defendants from selling goods below cost, pending trial of the action. The act provides sales below cost must not be made except when a stock is being closed out, where goods are perishable or where the low prices are an attempt to meet fair prices of a competitor.

BANQUET FOR PROF. CLAYTON

Fellow faculty members and former students of W. M. Clayton, vice principal and mathematics teacher at Santa Ana High school who retires this semester, will join in a testimonial banquet at the high school cafeteria next Thursday.

Principal Lynn H. Crawford will be toastmaster for the evening, and speakers will include Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools; J. A. Cranston, former city superintendent; D. K. Hammond, junior college director, and Miss Josephine Arnold, high school teacher.

Herbert Bickel, music department head at the high school, will furnish a quartette of student talent, and Kenneth Heiges will be in charge of instrumental music during the banquet. Howard Youel will give a vocal solo, accompanied by Ruth Frothingham.

BOY ADMITS GIRL CHARGE

Robert Barnes, 18-year-old Santa Ana student, had thrown himself on the mercy of the court today and asked probation, admitting a statutory offense against a 14-year-old girl.

Barnes will have a hearing on his application June 10 before Presiding Judge James L. Allen. Barnes and his two younger cousins, who were remanded to juvenile court authorities, were arrested after the girl said they seized her at Fourth and Van Ness streets April 24, drove her around and then attacked her.

Witnesses' stories on the kidnapping and of a sex crime committed with violence were dismissed.

Lovely Loretta Young, above, is co-starred with Spencer Tracy in the dramatic picture, "Man's Castle," which opens an engagement tomorrow at the West Coast theater with "The Lady in the Morgue," a thrilling Crime Club mystery starring Preston Foster.

Co-Starred in 'Holiday'

Stage Show Ends Run This Evening

Last opportunity for theatergoers to see the stage production, "Bell's Hawaiian Follies," was offered today by the Broadway theater. The stage show appears for the last time tonight, along with the motion picture, "Stolen Heaven," a romantic drama.

A company of 12 native stars is featured in "Bell's Hawaiian Follies," presenting 45 minutes of entertainment, singing, dancing and instrumental music. The show features Hawaiian beauties in native dances, guitar music and singers who chant their racial songs with a wealth of harmony and feeling. Several numbers feature "hot" American songs.

Two youngsters, head over heels in love, are rescued from making the worst mistake of their lives by a sentimental old musician in the screen play, "Stolen Heaven."

A Pete Smith novelty sport short, "La Savate," a comedy and World News completes the program.

Robert Taylor Is Coming Attraction

"Three Comrades," adapted from one of the books written by Erich Maria Remarque, author of "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "The Road Back," will open an engagement at the West Coast theater next Wednesday with an all-star cast headed by Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone, Robert Young and Margaret Sullivan.

"Three Comrades" is the story of three young veterans who survive the World war and pledge their friendships to battle life together in the newer fight to rehabilitate themselves. "Crime Takes a Holiday," with a cast headed by Jack Holt, Marcia Ralston, Russell Hopton and Douglas Dumbrille, will be the second attraction.

Comedy Is Coming To Broadway Soon

Amusing dialogue, polished acting and modern settings feature the new comedy-romance, "Women Are Like That," co-starring Kay Francis and Pat O'Brien as a new screen romantic team, which will open at the Broadway theater next Thursday with "The Kid Comes Back," starring the sensational new actor, Wayne Morris.

"Women Are Like That" is a comedy revolving around the advertising business. Wayne Morris soared to stardom in "Kid Kallahan" and "Submarine D-1." "The Kid Comes Back" is his third starring vehicle.

HEPBURN-GRANT AT BROADWAY

"Holiday," with Katharine Hepburn and Cary Grant co-starred, opens an engagement tomorrow at the Broadway theater with a second attraction, "Sinners in Paradise," it was announced today by Manager George King.

"Holiday" is the story of modern youth challenging the older generation. The boy is willing to work at his career, but only until such time as his career reaches the stage when he can retire.

The girl in the play is the daughter of wealth and position who, tired of the sham and pretense of her life as a debutante, searches for something to absorb her. Advance reports say Miss Hepburn has never brought a finer characterization to the screen. Grant is the first leading man to appear opposite the actress for a second time. Others in the cast include Doris Nolan, Jean Dixon, Binnie Barnes, Edward Everett Horton, Lew Ayres and Henry Kolker.

Romance, tragedy and wild adventure march hand in hand in "Sinners in Paradise." Madge Evans, John Boles and Bruce Cabot have the main roles, with Marion Martin, Gene Lockhart and others prominent cast. Forced to shift for themselves in primitive surroundings, the oddly assorted group of people find their elemental motions swaying them. A Porky cartoon and world news completes the program.

'MAN'S CASTLE' AT WEST COAST

"Man's Castle" is the intriguing name of the new photoplay which will open an engagement at the West Coast theater tomorrow with a cast headed by Spencer Tracy and Loretta Young.

"Man's Castle" was directed by the ace Hollywood director, Frank Borzage, and the cast of the film includes such players as Glenda Farrell, Walter Connolly, Marjorie Rambeau and Walter Hohl.

Twisted clues, zealous rough-house and picturesque characters feature the thrilling Crime club mystery, "The Lady in the Morgue," which is based on the same program. Chief among the characters is Detective Bill Crane, the hard-boiled, pleasantly alcoholic sleuth. He is played by Preston Foster.

Frank Jenks has the role of Crane's clownish but rough and ready assistant, Patricia Ellis furnishes the romantic interest in the picture, and Tom Jackson is amusing as a numskull officer of the law.

Crane gets into the plot when a girl's body is found hanging in a lodging house and the cops call it a suicide. Crane thinks the body may be that of the daughter of a wealthy client.

'TOM SAWYER' WALKER'S FILM

It was following a stay in England, where he had lectured for two months steadily at the Savoy theater and became the most talked of figure in London, that Mark Twain came back home to write what his biographer, Paine, called "the book that will longest preserve his memory."

This was "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," now brought to the screen by David O. Selznick which will appear at Walker's theater Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. On the same show is "The First Hundred Years," starring Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce.

The cast of "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" is an impressive one, including May Robson, Jackie Moran, Ann Gillis, Walter Brennan, Victory Jory and David Holt. Tommy Kelly, who plays Tom Sawyer, was born in New York City in 1925. He is the son of Michael A. Kelly, a church sexton.

Breezy in story is "The First Hundred Years." The semi-serious theme of the film gives Montgomery more latitude for expression than he has enjoyed in his previous playboy parts. The supporting cast includes: Binnie Barnes, Alan Dinehart, Harry Davenport, Nydia Westman, E. E. Clive, Torben Meyer and others.

'Tom Sawyer' Plays at Walker's

Tommy Kelly and Jackie Moran are among the featured players in Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," which opens tomorrow for a four day run at Walker's theater. The picture is a technicolor production directed by David O. Selznick.

Jack, Judith and Bing at State

Comedy predominating, there's everything from smiles to belly laughs in "Too Much Harmony," playing at the State theater Sunday through Tuesday. Jack Oakie, Judith Allen and Bing Crosby (above) play the leads.

BING CROSBY TO SING AT STATE

Appearing at the State theater, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday are two films which were brought back to Santa Ana by popular demand. They are "Wagon Wheels" and "Too Much Harmony."

"Wagon Wheels" is Zane Grey's story of early pioneer days. This picture traces the experience, dangers and hardships of the band of pioneers who broke the first wagon trail from Missouri to Oregon. It is action drama, romance, comedy and human interest. The picture features Randolph Scott, Billy Lee, Gail Patrick, Monte Blue and Raymond Hatten.

Bing Crosby is the featured artist in "Too Much Harmony," a picture with girls and gags—music and dancing. The production has an excellent "musical cast," including Jack Oakie, Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Judith Allen, Ned Sparks, Henry Armetta and Grace Bradley.

On the same bill is another chapter of "Radio Patrol."

Multiple Hues Add Beauty To Delightful Party

A delightful array of colors and flowers greeted eyes of two dozen guests of Mrs. L. W. Blodgett yesterday afternoon when they arrived at her pretty home on Oakmont street to attend a bridge luncheon at which she was hostess. Charming individuality was apparent in the manner in which Mrs. Blodgett arranged her tables, for each was carried out in a different hue. A slim taper rising from the center of each set the color-note, and matching blossoms were around the bases.

Poppies surrounded an orange candle, while dainty Cecil Bruners emphasized the bluish pink taper at another table. In her white emphasized the bluish pink taper sweet sultanas, and in blue, sweet williams. Pansies heightened the tones of an orchid candle, and delicate columbines were lovely with the yellow.

Mrs. Blodgett was assisted in serving by Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mrs. John McCarty, and Mrs. C. E. Bressler, and at the close of the afternoon's contract, awarded lovely compacts as high score prizes to Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. David Terhune, and Mrs. Dean Campbell.

Guests attending the delightful affair were Mrs. R. A. Tiernan, Mrs. John Backus, Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mrs. D. H. Betten, Mrs. Dor. Hilyard, Mrs. C. E. Bressler, Mrs. Elmer Chastain, Mrs. Clyde Hill, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. Arthur Bradley, Mrs. Frank Harwood, Mrs. David Terhune, Mrs. Ernest Gould, Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. Don Andrews, Mrs. Dudley Morrison, Mrs. R. P. Yeagle, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. John McCarty, Mrs. Eugene Forney, Mrs. Dean Campbell, and Mrs. Walter Waldron.

Smart Affair In City Fetes Bride

Mrs. Thompson Hampton Mitchell, who, until her marriage April 12 at Las Vegas to the head of the Radio Corporation of America, was Mrs. James Irvine, Jr., formerly of Santa Ana, was honored at a smart luncheon and musicale yesterday afternoon at the Wedgewood room of the Town House.

Her sister, Miss Jeanne Richardson, was hostess at the affair, and was aided in receiving guests by her equally prominent and charming mother, Mrs. George R. Richardson, and Mrs. Alfred G. Huerngardt.

Following the luncheon at tables beautifully decorated in pastel blues and yellows Mrs. Grace Inman Ard, popular young concert artist, delighted the guests with a musical program presented in the ballroom.

Among the three dozen guests sharing in the delightful party, one of many which Los Angeles socialites are giving for the pretty bride, were Mrs. Horace Stevens, Mrs. Fred Forney, Mrs. John Wehrly, Mrs. Wayne Harrison and Mrs. Charles Swanner of Santa Ana.

TWIN SISTER IS HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. Roy Yoder and Mrs. Charles Atwood were charming co-hostesses at a layette shower given Thursday evening at the Yoder home, 920 South Parker street for Mrs. Lyman Nelson, twin sister of Mrs. Yoder.

The rooms were fragrant with bouquets of sweet peas and Cecil Bruner roses. Chinese checkers were the diversion of the evening and prizes were awarded to the Mesdames Walter Gredler, C. E. Wacker, Victor Raney and Miss Mildred Lukens.

Following the evening of games, light refreshments were served. When the refreshments were served to the guest of honor, Mrs. Nelson, a shower of prettily wrapped packages was placed before her.

Present were the Mesdames Lyman Nelson, Gaylord Helms of Los Angeles, Lucien Canda of Fullerton, Victor Raney of Villa Park, C. E. Wacker of Orange, Elmer Thompson, F. J. Herschler, John Hedrick, Gene Johnson, Walter Gredler, and the Mesdames Dorthea Harris of Orange, Mildred Lukens, Esther Coffman, Ethel Coffman, Mable Cole and Evelyn Schubert.

LEGION WIVES VISIT HOSPITAL

A group of American Legion auxiliary members visited San Fernando veterans hospital Wednesday afternoon, staying on into the evening to play cards. Eighteen were present at the card party, which was in charge of Mrs. Roy Gowdy, hospital chairman.

Present for the evening were the Mesdames Robert Sandon, Roy Gowdy, David Jells, Evelyn Imhoff, Arthur Eklund, Andrew Lykko, Winifred Triplett, Fannie Reeves, James Scudder and Charles Leimer, Dr. Peryl Magill and Miss Julia Magill, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dane, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roepke.

Five O'Clock Wedding Is Performed

Extremely simple were the wedding rites yesterday afternoon at which Miss Mary Anne Baxter became the bride of Bayard Ellwood Lindley in the lovely setting of the new First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana.

The graceful bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Baxter of 826 South Birch street, wore an attractive frock of navy marquisette with a matching redingote covered with all-over pink embroidery. Her accessories were in matching blue with the exception of pale pink suede gloves, an effective note.

The couple chose to be unattended, and the bride was given in marriage by her father. The Rev. Dr. J. A. Stevenson, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, officiated at the ceremony.

A wedding supper was held at Daniger's following the rites, with just the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter, and Dr. and Mrs. Stevenson as guests. Mr. and Mrs. John Deck of Santa Monica, parents of the groom, were called east unexpectedly just before the wedding.

After a honeymoon in Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Lindley will make their home in Santa Monica. Both attended Santa Ana Junior college, with the bride completing her education at Stanford university, and the groom receiving his degrees from the University of Utah and Santa Barbara State college.

SECTION MEETS IN HOME OF SEGERSTROMS

For its final meeting of the year Thursday Evening Literary section of Ebell club met at the charming home of Mrs. Anton Segerstrom at 1914 Victoria drive.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Segerstrom were Mrs. Kenneth Ranney, Mrs. Edward Lee Russell, Mrs. George Paul, and Mrs. E. F. Bruning.

Delighting the assembled members and guests, Mrs. Mabel Faulkner presented a charming talk, "The sketching Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize play, 'Our Town.'" In connection with it she named and briefly touched on all the Pulitzer prize novels and plays since 1916, and reviewed Isaac Dyneson's "Out of Africa" and Agnes Repplier's "Eight Decades."

Following the program, Mrs. Cassius Paul, next year's section leader, had the honor of presiding over a beautifully appointed table.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Harold Dale, Mrs. Ray Barr, Mrs. Russell Sullivan, Mrs. Raymond Treavor, Mrs. Franklin West, Mrs. Stanley F. Palmer, Mrs. Emmett Raitt, Dr. Margaret Baker, and Miss Abramson.

Members present were Miss Dorothy Forgy, Miss Hazel Thrasher, Miss Esther Rideout, Mrs. Wendell Finley, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. Cassius Paul, Mrs. M. Butler, Mrs. Lynn Crawford, Mrs. C. H. Hoiles, Mrs. Horace Leeding, Mrs. Milo Tedstrom, Dr. Stella Davis, and the hostesses.

CHAT A WHILE

And a happy quintuplets' birthday to you all, my dears! It is May 28th, just three days away from the month of brides and graduates and vacations, and a natal celebration day of not only the five adorables, the eighth wonder of the world, but of a quintet of well-known Santa Anas, too.

Congratulations to Victor Walker, Marian Loerch, Henriette Walker, Julia Dale, and little Bobbie Jo Wilson!

The last-named, flaxen haired little daughter of Russell and Ninette Rowland Wilson, is celebrating in a brand new home. All in a week her enterprising parents have rented a new home on Grand avenue, bought furniture, and moved in. Bobbie's aunt, Ruth Rowland, is moving back to the Tustin cottage which the Wilsons have been living in.

Another of the same celebrants, Henriette Walker, with her spouse and family, is also moving—but not 'til the end of the week-end. It's a simple process, comparatively speaking, because they're simply moving out of one green stucco domicile on Valencia into another g'd s'd just across the street.

And while we're on the subject of birthdays, did you know that another member of the Clan of Finley made her appearance yesterday? Margaret Finley Blower (Toy) became parents of a strapping seven pound daughter out at St. Joseph's. As yet she is unnamed.

Enterprising Claudia Worswick had a pleasant surprise this week. A fortnight ago she became interested in a radio program she

Mrs. West Is Hostess For Niece

Mrs. Franklin G. West entertained at a charming luncheon this afternoon complimenting her niece, Miss Betty West, whose marriage to Fred Pinkston will occur late in June.

White and silver dominated the decoration scheme, with bowls of pure white blossoms in the living room and entering the small luncheon tables. For the dessert course two extremely pretty concoctions were served, dainty white cakes topped by wedding bells with silvered clappers, and bridal-like ices centered with traditional slippers. Of corresponding beauty was a lovely bouquet sent the hostess by her niece.

Mrs. Z. B. West, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Marguerite West Hill, an aunt, assisted in serving and highlight of the afternoon came when the adorable three-year-old cousins of the honoree, little Mary West, daughter of the Franklin Wests, and Edmund West, Jr., appeared dragging a satin ribbon-decked wagon behind them, laden with prettily wrapped gifts for the bride-elect's kitchen. Miss Mary was in a brief frock of sheer white with a big white bow in her dark curls, and Eddie, Jr., was in jaunty starched linen.

Guests of Mrs. West who enjoyed contract to conclude the affair were Mrs. Marguerite West Hill, Mrs. Z. B. West, Mrs. Edmund West, Mrs. M. A. Yarnell, Mrs. Edward M. Hall, and a group of collegiennes, the Misses Harriet Fowler, Evelyn Witt, Dee Pettit, Winifred Pettit, Betty Timmons, Mildred McCalla, Mercedes Kellough, Barbara Warner, Betty Bradley, Justine Krock, Jo Flaherty, Virginia Curry, and the honoree. Mrs. John Barleone, Jr. and Miss Kate Lillard were also invited guests.

VICTOR WALKER IS HONORED

The birthday anniversary of Victor Walker today was incentive for a surprise bacchus supper in his honor Thursday evening when employees at the Walker theaters joined in giving a barbecue and steak bake.

Participating in the fete were Lyle Anderson, Glenn Cave, Glenn Cole, Margaret Crowell, Edward Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hammond, Marshall Harolds, Dell Johnson, Helen LeGates, Dan Pinney, Jack Roberts, K. E. Sharrock, Jack Shill, Marcella Stein, David Withall, George Young, Bill Wood, Ernie Zimmerman, Mrs. Claude Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Walker. BUFFET SUPPER

Members of Child Study section of Ebell have announced that a buffet supper will be served at 7:30 p. m. next Saturday to precede the dance which they have planned to enjoy with their husbands. The supper will be held at the Balboa Island home of Mrs. Raymond Harvey, with Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. Charles McDaniel, Jr., Mrs. Adrian Marks, and Dr. Stella Davis as co-hostesses.

Fashion highlights noted here and there in the gardens of the Scripps home this week: the vivid Dunton sisters, Betty and Barbara (Hales) looking lovely as could be, the former in a huge floppy-brimmed hat, and the latter Barbara in a demure tied-neath-the-chin number. . . . Bubbling little Mrs. Manley Nelson also in a broad-brimmed shepherdess chapeau. . . . Elaine (Mrs. Henry) Williams in easily one of the most becoming outfits in evidence with a luscious raspberry-hued sailor. . . . Louise (Edmund) West in a gossamer frock that reminded one of the Dresden-flower type of wallpaper. . . . Sunny-haired Mrs. Mortimer Plum in a white knit with intriguing red and green squares in the skirt. . . . A surprising number of lovely leghorns, not seen for many years, with Helen Swanner wearing a beauty, and with Vivian Huffman in a unique coolie-peaked one. . . .

A thoroughly stimulating episode of the week, for me, was teeing in the restful and charming livingroom of the lovely old Gustin studio that Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth have just taken for their own. Sparkling just like the gorgeous crystal chandeliers that weep down from the high ceilings was the conversation that flashed back and forth between sophisti-

MEMAGEMS MEET FOR BRIDGE DESSERT

Memagems bridge club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Huston Ludlum on South Main street for an evening of cards. First prize was won by Mrs. Merwin Fickes, travelers prize by Mrs. Earl Bersdell, and Mrs. John Schick won consolation.

A dessert course was served at the close of the evening carrying out a red and white color scheme. Next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Sheffield at which Mrs. Gardner King will be hostess. A birthday handkerchief shower will be held for Mrs. Schick at this meeting.

Present for the evening were the Mesdames Earl Sheffield, Earl Bersdell, Gardner King, Merwin Fickes, Paul Norman, Kenneth Stewart, John Schick and Mrs. Huston Ludlum, the hostesses.

TWO MATRONS ARE HOSTESSES AT DINNER

On Friday evening two of the "birthday trio," Mrs. William Penn and Mrs. Joseph Daniger, gave a very pleasant dinner to honor the other member of the threesome, Mrs. Perry G. Fullerton of Los Angeles, on her natal day.

The charming courtesy occurred at Daniger's at a table lovely in orchid and yellow, with pansies and tapers carrying out the motif, and with a birthday cake ringed with pansies to climax the dinner.

After dinner the group adjourned to the Penn home for cards. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Emig of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corey, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William Penn and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Daniger.

Mrs. Nall and Mrs. Gardner Are Cohostesses At Luncheon

The attractive home of Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Nall on North Flower street proved to be a charming setting yesterday afternoon for a luncheon which Mrs. Nall and Mrs. Harvey Gardner joined in giving as the first of several parties which each is planning as separate gestures. Masses of lovely flowers added to the prettiness of the rooms, with lavender and yellow violas from the Nall garden centering each small luncheon table. Mrs. Nall repeated the same dainty little blossoms and colors in the place-cards and tallies which she herself painted.

In the dining room was a striking arrangement of pale pink and blue blossoms of all varieties, arranged by Mrs. Gardner.

Winners of lovely prizes in linens were Mrs. E. C. Wagner, Mrs. Joseph Daniger, and Mrs. R. C. Hoiles.

The invited guests of Mrs. Nall and Mrs. Gardner were Mrs. Harry Westover, Mrs. Robert Mize, Mrs. Leonard J. Saylor, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, Mrs. Charles Hyde, Jr., Mrs. Howard Timmons, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. D. A. Harwood, Mrs. Tarver Montgomery, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. W. W. Nussbaumer, Mrs. R. C. Hoiles, Mrs. Earl Abbey, Mrs. George Dunton, Mrs. E. C. Wagner, Mrs. John Tessimann, Mrs. Walter Spicer, Mrs. Joseph Daniger, Mrs. R. P. Yeagle, Mrs. Louis Sawyer, Mrs. Foster Lamb, Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. Lynn Crumwell, Mrs. Robert Tuthill, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mrs. Eugene Robinson, Mrs. Edmund West, and Mrs. Charles Spicer.

The bride was charmingly gowned in a powder blue sheer and wore a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. Large baskets of yellow and white flowers decorated the living and dining rooms of the home, and bouquets of yellow roses were also about the house.

Following the simple wedding, refreshments were served to approximately 30 guests from a dainty tea table, with the bride's mother dressed in a light blue gown, and her aunt, Miss Isabel Little, and an old friend of the family, Mrs. Belle Marshall, pouring the tea. The bride cut the lovely white cake baked in her honor.

The young couple have left on a trip to unknown destination. The bride is a graduate of Santa Ana Junior college and took nurses' training at the Good Samaritan hospital in Los Angeles. The groom is a graduate of Santa Ana Junior college and is now connected with the city engineer's department as surveyor.

DINNER DANCE AT LOS SERRANOS IS ENJOYABLE

A thoroughly delightful evening was experienced last evening by half a hundred Junior Ebells and their husbands and guests when the organization's annual spring dinner dance was held at spacious Los Serranos Country club.

Particular amusement and pleasure was aroused by the orchestra playing at the club, which was composed of business men from nearby towns with whom music is a hobby.

Couples were seated at small tables in groups of four and eight, and dancing was alternated with the dinner courses. Occupying prominent places were Mrs. Carleton Smith, general chairman, who wore a white organdy frock with tiny blue polka dots; Mrs. Albert Harvey, retiring president, in a long-sleeved gay print; Miss Elizabeth Smith, president-elect, in a pastel print, and Mrs. Clyde Higgs, ticket chairman, in demure white.

Other pretty frocks noted amid the array of spring and summery sheers and prints were the magenta linen of Mrs. Tevis Westgate and the saucy "Big Apple" one of Mrs. Hans Walberg. Mrs. Chester Horton was in dark blue with sequins, Mrs. Clarence Hoiles in a dark print, Mrs. Daniel Jones in white satin, Mrs. John Scripps in pretty pink lace, Mrs. Charles McDaniel in pale blue lace, Miss Mildred Spicer in pink with a fluffy bolero, Mrs. Herbert Strochein also in pale pink. Mrs. Eurt Zausser's grey gown was offset by a pink sash, and Mrs. James Eugene Walker was striking in navy sheer with white bands to trim it.

What's responsible for the preponderance of neat fluffs peeking out from beneath the back of tilted straw hats? (This seems to be a regular hatter's column this week!) Majestic Mrs. James Irvine was noted at the Horse Show in a white fur coat with a dark straw of said fashion and immediately in her wake was diminutive Margaret (Mrs. Edward) Hall, in just the reverse, mink coat with light hat, tilted at the identical angle and with the same bowed-up tulle showing from the back. And many others, too!

Also on the joyously welcomed list this week is lovely Mrs. Clarence Crookshank, home for good after an absence of many months. For a few days she's visiting with Ronald and Beulah Crookshank, and then will make her permanent home with Miss Lida C.

Lucille and Stanley Anderson are hosting Alice and Wayne Harrison at their Arrowhead cottage over the week-end. . . . The Albert Harveys plan to leave next Saturday via automobile for Seattle, where they will join Molly's parents and go on to Spokane for the wedding of Arthur Greeley on the 18th. It will be the first family reunion of Greeleys in four years, and if present plans work out, when the Harveys return in two weeks they will leave young Jack and Alice Priscilla to spend the remainder of the summer with their grandparents on the shores of Puget Sound.

Amusing incident of the week: The incredulous look on several faces Saturday night when it was announced that a Countess! was going to give an award at the Horse Show! The expression was a result of momentary shock, because the owners of those faces for a second thought it was the playful guess of Joey and Wilbur Barr—Winnie Jacobs of Long Beach—up to her old tricks again. Once last summer, for the benefit of new readers let it be told, that pretty young daughter on her first visit here, had everyone at the entire Conus dance believing she was a countess.

But this time 'twas really a peeress, and no masquerade.

See you next Saturday. My poetic instincts have been held in check so long that I must give rein to them (everyone's talking Horse language these days)—so I'm threatening you with all sorts of this and that next week. Can you wait?

—BETTY GUILD.

MRS. S. W. NAU IS ELECTED TRAVEL LEADER

Forty members of Ebell Third Travel section were present at a luncheon meeting yesterday at the clubhouse at which time new officers for the coming year were selected. This luncheon was one of three held by the section each year, and Mrs. Minnie Holmes and Mrs. W. W. Hoyer were co-chairman, assisted by a large committee.

A delicious luncheon was served at one large table centered with a bouquet of coral bells and a number of bouquets of red roses. During the short business meeting conducted by Mrs. S. A. Moore the report of the nominating committee was given, and Mrs. S. W. Nau was elected leader for next year, Mrs. W. W. Hoyer, assistant leader and Mrs. Albert Bowen, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. C. J. Lashy was program chairman, introduced A. J. Lashy who was speaker of the afternoon, telling of his interesting travels through Russia. New year books with programs for the coming year were handed out, and it was announced that the section now boasts 45 members.

LAGUNA HOME IS SCENE OF LUNCHEON

Following a custom which was established 12 years ago and has come to be the highlight of each year, members of Fidelis class of the First Baptist church enjoyed the May 28 meeting at the Laguna Beach home of Mrs. Doris L. Wilbur. Co-hostesses in arranging the luncheon with her were Mrs. G. A. Spurrier, Mrs. A. T. Davis, and Mrs. Gertrude Hammetstead.

Mrs. Gertrude Lamb presided over a meeting and Mrs. A. B. Parker led devotionally. After lunch many of the members enjoyed a stroll along the beach while others lingered behind to arrange a birthday celebration for two May celebrants, Mrs. C. J. Jover and Mrs. Frank Thomas. Sharing in the lovely cake they later cut and served were the Mesdames E. R. Newman, Gus Klingenberg, David Meyer, J. R. Farwell, Harvey C. Wolfe, R. L. Blanchard, C. H. Egan, C. L. Joiner, F. Davis, B. L. Wilson, I. L. Marchant, Gertrude Lamb, A. B. Parker, W. F. Dietrich, A. J. Davis, G. W. Spurrier, Robert Hammetstead, Minnie Cole, Frank Thomas, and two special guests, Miss Mildred Marchant and Mrs. W. R. Baker of Laguna Beach.

VETERAN TALKS TO UNITARIANS TOMORROW

Memorial Day will be observed at the Unitarian church tomorrow with special services and a sermon by Veteran Wm. S. Kelley of the C.C.C. camp at El Toro. The devotional services will be enriched by a reading of "Remember Again," by Paul Veley, with a musical accompaniment played by William Beeman.

Mr. Kelley's address, "Memorial Day in a Changing World," will commemorate the dead, discussing the meaning of Memorial Day for the world of 1928.

Mr. Kelley served with the ambulance company attached to the 350th Infantry, and after the war was one of two men chosen from his company for government scholarships to the University of Beaune, France, where he studied for several years.

Returning to his native land he completed his university course at the University of Chicago.

The service will begin at 11 a. m. This is the second of a series of four special services in which laymen will give the morning address.

PRESIDENTS HOLD CARD PARTY

Past presidents of Calumet auxiliary of United Spanish War Veterans met at the home of Mrs. Edna Hannah on Cypress street Wednesday for an evening of bridge and pinocle preceded by a short business meeting. Mrs. Katherine Reagan won the high prize at bridge, with Mrs. Elva Hunt winning low prize at pinocle. Mrs. Bertha Helmer won high prize, and Mrs. Jean Tantlinger low prize.

Two course refreshments were served with a lovely birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Erickson who also received a birthday gift. Mrs. Celia Cook received an anniversary gift. Next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Emma King Wassum June 9.

Guests present for the evening were the Mesdames Katherine Reagan, Elizabeth Moberly, Bertha M. Dixon, Emma K. Wassum, Jean Tantlinger, Elva Hunt, Bertha Helmer, Elizabeth Erickson, Celia Cook, Nannie Reed, Eleanor Shaw, Estelle Dresser, and the hostess Edna Hannah.

Here is a boost for the younger generation from a sensible mother. She is absolutely right when she reiterates that the children today are no different from those of any other generation, but that the parents may be falling down on training and guiding their youngsters for the world of today.

Dear Miss Stoddard: Ever since the discussion has come up about children, I've wanted to put in my say, but have always been too busy. I am the mother of seven children and was left to care for them alone. Just as soon as the children were old enough to do a small part of the work, they were told that was their work to do and I had very little trouble.

I have worked hard, as you may know, to keep them fed. Now they are all out on their own, five married, and they always had good school grades and deportment.

What I am trying to say is this: Why do mothers and fathers make such a fuss over a son? They seem to think they are too good to do any kind of work.

In our neighborhood we have had at least a dozen boys get into trouble. Now in these same families the girls work downtown and come home and work and the boys are allowed to roam the streets.

One mother came to me after they boy had gotten into trouble and asked me just what was my secret in raising such a fine family. I told her they were all given enough work to keep them off the streets and they were not allowed to roam around or drive around at night.

The five who are married have all married well and have nice homes. I was a pal to my boys as well as to my girls.

What can you expect if children are not taught to respect their father and their mother? I grant you that every teacher could tell you every child who has had the proper home training.

We live in a nice neighborhood and the parents of these boys who have gotten into trouble are the salt of the earth, but when it comes to raising boys they have made a failure of it.

Then, there is too much drinking going on in the homes. People you would call nice people, seem to think nothing of talking before their children of "having too much to drink."

There is nothing wrong with the children when they start out to walk alone. It's the later influences, such as destructive reading, programs, shows and most of all the bad examples some of the elders set for them. "They're out of bounds," you say. It's your responsibility and job to keep them in bounds until they reach maturity. I'll grant not one out of 10 fathers know where their sons are going and what sort of pleasure they like best.

Sincerely,
NOW A GRANDMA.

SANTA ANA CHURCHES WELCOME YOU SERMONETTE

(ON THIS WEEK'S CHURCH SCHOOL LESSON)

By Glenn L. Thorne

Our series of lessons in Mark is interrupted this week for the regular quarterly temperance lesson. The scripture portions are found in Daniel I, and I Corinthians 9, and especially emphasize the personal aspect of temperance.

Briefly, the lesson from Daniel tells where he and three of his friends, all young men in the school of Nebuchadnezzar, were to be trained for service in the king's court. It is generally supposed that Daniel was about 17 years old—just at an age when many young men think it necessary to solve a few wild oats. But Daniel had had a good training, had led a simple life and refrained from riotous living. Now, knowing the value of temperance, he asked for a short tryout with others to be the judges. He was allowed to practice temperate habits, not to defile himself. The result was obvious. Daniel and his three companions won over all the others, and continued in the service of the king.

In the New Testament, Paul's approach to the same theme as taught in Daniel exemplifies the self-controlled life, speaking of the great Marathon races and uses the athlete as an example of the necessity and benefit of keeping physically fit. The honors of the race go only to the winners and they are judged the fittest. The secret of their success is always a good background, self control, self mastery of the physical, mental and spiritual. And this is not to be found until the real man within the outward body can say a definite No to the appetites. Self-administered discipline is of the highest value. Through it we may not only be winners, but also reap benefits in other ways from strength and beauty of real manhood and womanhood.

Paul said "I keep my body under." We might say, "I keep my head on top." Henry Ward Beecher attributed much of his success to his physical fitness. He said "It is true that the mind and soul are the gun, but the body is the gun carriage. The gun is useless unless brought into place and properly directed by the carriage."

We are apt to use the word temperance too lightly or too narrowly. It can hardly be termed self denial of anything normal, legitimate or right for one. Rather, temperance is one of the most important laws of life, a necessity to the best living and the greatest usefulness, yet how careless are we about it. Many of us are too largely under the control of, and led by our bodily appetites. And how much this has to do with our physical condition which in turn affects the mind and soul.

There is much superficial thinking and many decisions made these days, based on ignorance and deception, mixed with willfulness. Men, women and youth, are "kidding themselves" saying "It does not hurt me" because they do not seem to see any immediate bad effects. They cannot see the effect on the blood stream, nerves, brain and heart. Because they want the thing they deceive themselves, will not believe those who know.

In conclusion let us remember that unless we conquer ourselves and our appetites, we are but slaves. And how would we learn self-mastery? Lobstein said "by yielding to the One Great Master."

Gene Onwiler and Albert Dennis will be speakers at the men's training class meeting of the Church of Christ Wednesday evening starting at 7:30 p. m. The ladies' quilting group will meet Thursday for a noon luncheon to be followed by class at 1:30 p. m.

The Rev. E. R. Dunbar, superintendent of the Missionary Training Institute of Nyack, N. Y., will preach at the morning worship services tomorrow at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church.

Next Sunday evening the choir of the First Baptist church will give an all request program. Organ numbers may be suggested to Mrs. Warren. This program marks the last evening church service until next fall.

Henry Powell who has recently returned from a year in the Philippine islands will give a talk on the life over there at the League of Youth meeting of the First Congregational church tomorrow evening at 6:30 p. m.

Musical selections will be featured at morning and evening services at the First Free Methodist church tomorrow. The choir will sing in the morning under the direction of Halstead McCormack, and Orlo Hosholm will sing a solo. Gustav Koehler will sing a solo at the evening service and community singing will be led by the Men's chorus.

Walter E. Tipton will speak on the topic, "Winning Our Way Through the World of Worship" at the study of worship service next Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church.

The annual conference of Evangelical churches of California will be held in the Evangelical church in Anaheim, June 2 through 5.

A special Memorial Day service in honor of Sedgwick post No. 17 of the G. A. R. and all its affiliated organizations will be observed at the morning service at the First Presbyterian church at which time a former pastor of the church, Rev. Joseph A. Stevenson, will preach on the topic, "Blessed Peacemakers." Special music will be presented by the Cathedral choir of the church.

The Friendship circle of the South Santa Ana Church of Christ will meet Wednesday for an all day quilting bee at the home of Mrs. C. F. Rathbone, 712 East Chestnut street. The weekly prayer meeting of the church will be held Wednesday evening at 2060 South Main street.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church will join with the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church in their picnic at Irvine park next Saturday. Competitive sports with the Spurgeon church will be the diversion of the afternoon. Those wishing transportation are asked to meet at the church at 9:30 p. m.

PAN HELLENIC
Pan Hellenic society of Santa Ana will have its final meeting of the year Tuesday evening at the Doris-Kathryn tea shop on North Main street. Hostesses for the evening, who include the Mesdames H. G. Wilson, Carrie Wells, Henry Williams, Alice McVay, Robert Wimbush, Robert Weston and Robert Guild, have planned a dessert course and bridge party.

J. B. TUCKER IS SIXTH IN RACE FOR BENCH

J. B. Tucker, Santa Ana attorney, filed his declaration of candidacy for the judgeship of department one of the superior court yesterday, bring to six the number of candidates who have filed for two positions.

Today is deadline for declarations of prospective candidates. Tucker will oppose Judge Homer G. Ames, incumbent, and James L. Davis, former assistant district attorney for department one, and James L. Allen, incumbent, Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison and Attorney Franklin West, have filed declarations in the department two race.

Although the six who already have filed are the only ones who have been mentioned in connection with the superior court campaign, other prospective candidates would have until 5 p. m. today to declare.

MEMORIAL DAY

Under the little crosses where they rise,
The soldier rests. Now 'round him undismayed,
The cannon thunders, and at night he lies
At peace beneath the eternal fusillade—

That other generations might possess—
From shame and menace free in years to come—
A richer heritage of happiness.
He marched to that heroic martyrdom.

ALAN SEEGER

The Nation next Monday honors its war dead. Services will be held and flowers heaped on the graves of those who died "that other generations might possess . . . a richer heritage of happiness." When you place a wreath at the grave of someone you loved . . . and lost . . . pray with all your heart, that those who are working for a world without wars attain their ideal. Then future generations will not know the pain of battlefield bereavement.

THE MOUNTAIN ROYS

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

By JOHN HIX

THE LOSER'S CUP...

To the loser go the spoils—whenever West Point's ice hockey team plays the Royal Military College of Canada.

Strange as it seems, there is a traditional "gentleman's agreement" about the matter which provides that the loser of the contest gets to keep physical possession of the winner's trophy as consolation.

Since the cup was first donated on Feb. 23, 1924, by the commandant of the Canadian institution, the U. S. Military Academy has kept possession of the trophy, having lost every game but one—a tie.

The greatest courtesies are extended between rival teams whenever the two meet. Because student rooters are not permitted to travel to their opponents' school, the hosts provide special rooting sections well versed in the others' yells.

Several times U. S. M. A. hockey teams have carried the trophy to Canada, but each time they have lost and brought the cup back with them. Some day Canada may lose the match, in which case they will keep the coveted trophy.

Gold Moves Westward

Further proof that the North American continent is the safest spot in the world at present, from a military standpoint, is contained in news from Canada that England is sending large shipments of gold to Canada for safekeeping.

Says a news dispatch: "Some monetary experts believe the gold is being sent to Canada so it would be readily available for the purchase of munitions in the United States should Britain be involved in war. . . . Other experts say the gold is stored in Canada by the Bank of England for safekeeping because of the unsettled state of Europe and the danger of retaining a large gold supply should a conflict come."

Although modern civilization buries, "sterilizes" and otherwise mistreats its gold, it is still a very much desired commodity among the "marching" nations, and the modern Napoleons would eye even London as a juicy morsel if its bank vaults were filled with the yellow metal.

By sending gold to Canada, too, there is an implication that it is under the protection of the United States through the Monroe doctrine.

Hague Proves Case Against Himself

Strange place, that Jersey City!

If anyone had reason before last night to believe untrue the charges against Mayor Frank Hague, the town's dictator himself proved the case against himself when police escorted a member of the United States congress to a train and saw to it that he left and did not return. The congressman erred in thinking that the forces of law and order in Jersey City would defend the principles of free speech and free assemblage.

Hague's director of public safety announced today that his men saved Congressman O'Connell from a mob. The officer's statement merely serves to advance the idea that the always practical Hague organization saw to it that the boys turned out for a lively demonstration.

All in all, the action of the New Jersey police was far more eloquent of Jersey City conditions than anything that O'Connell could have said.

One Rosy Prospect

Almost since the first "rock oil" was found by man it has been a popular prediction that the end of the supply was just around the corner—and just imagine what the world would do, going back to tallow dips, wood-consuming base burner stoves and (in these days) to horses and buggies.

So it is with a feeling of relief that we read the presumably authoritative words of W. R. Boyd, jr., vice-president of the American Petroleum Institute, who says:

"America's oil supply is both assured and insured for the future. The drilling of wells to a depth of nearly three miles creates a reasonable belief that this industry will find and produce more and more oil from prolific sands far below any now known."

So we won't have any further qualms about ordering that new automobile we have our eye on, just as soon as Isinglass Common goes up two and one-half points.

'Doc, You're Killing Me'

A poll of dentists at the Oklahoma Dental society convention in Tulsa reveals that dentists there unanimously agree that women are far braver patients than men.

"When women go into a dentist's office they are determined to go through with it, and don't complain," says Dr. J. A. Wells. "Men are jittery and often think of some other engagement to get out of sitting in the dentist's chair."

Women will agree with that statement. They'll say it is because men are essentially babies, looking for sympathy and comfort from their womenfolk. The women just have to grin and bear it.

Whether this theory so long propounded by women is right or not the dentists seem to believe it. Where's your courage, men? Step right up into the chair and open up wide!

The Coast Area Steps Ahead

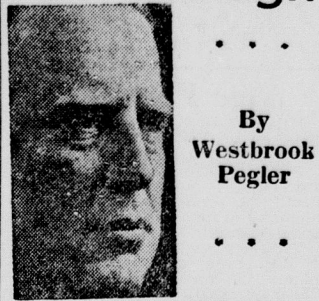

An actress will snip a ribbon, a mayor will rattle keys in locks, and Huntington Beach this afternoon will greet the summer season by dedicating its fine $70,000 pavilion.

Opening of the impressive building marks a milestone in the rapid development of Orange county's famous coastline, still forging ahead as one of the world's great playgrounds.

The beautiful new pavilion, monument to the progressiveness and foresight of a wideawake community, is a credit to Huntington Beach, the coastline communities and all of Orange county.

Inland residents will find a trip to Huntington Beach during the three-day celebration today, tomorrow or Monday well worth while, from a personal standpoint and as a neighborly act.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK—As to the accuracy of some of the representations in the following note of protest I have no information. It is an artillery officer's protest against the return of the blue dress uniform.

Army people, he says, can be imposed on with impunity by politicians, and he strongly disclaims any desire on the part of conscientious professionals to strut at teas or crock parties in horsefeathers and gold braid.

"Orders have been issued from Washington," he writes, "requiring all officers of the regular army to buy blue dress, heretofore optional."

Representative Rogers (D. Mass.) has introduced a bill to appropriate $5,000,000 to put the enlisted men in blue also.

"Nothing is to be gained by retrogression, and the army tends to be far too reactionary as it is. The blue uniform stands for the army of a simpler, more leisurely day, when the most arduous duty consisted of watching evening parade, followed by drinks at the officers' club. The present day soldier works. A return to a leisurely way of our pre-war army might be desirable but, unfortunately, is not possible.

Glorifier Of War
"Authorities agree that the world is on the verge of a new and more devastating conflict than the one seems able to stop. This is no time for dress. It is a time for work. A dress uniform is part of that purposeless panoply of war which indeed seeks to glorify it.

"Our's is a citizen's army. The regular army is but a small part of our forces. With the regulars in blues we introduce a distinction which will breed only discontent. It is an unwarranted expense. An active second lieutenant gets about $130 a month, a general about $500 a month and a minimum outfit costs about $150.

"But that's only the officers, who can stand anything. The country is asked to make an initial outlay of $5,000,000 for blue for the soldiers, to go to Mrs. Rogers' Massachusetts woolen mills—five million for gold braid, when there are exactly two batteries of modern anti-aircraft guns in the entire country, a mere hundred or so tanks; when our artillery is equipped with a model 1897 field gun, with not enough ammunition for training purposes. Our equipment and material in every department is far from efficient because of lack of funds to bring large bodies of troops together for maneuvers. Officers and soldiers live in dilapidated quarters because congress won't build accommodations.

"Uniforms were first introduced for purposes of identification and discipline. Since, in earlier times, the army constituted a superior caste, armies vied with each other to strut before civilians in the gaudiest possible combinations. Need we remind ourselves that the United States is supposed to be a democracy?

"As weapons were then used only at close range, protective coloration did not enter into the matter, and the gaudy uniform could be, and was, worn to war.

Why Blue?

"The purposes of a uniform today are discipline, identification and protective coloration. None of these calls for a blue uniform. "One reason more—they say pride in the service. Is pride of service, then, a matter of blue cloth and gold braid? It is far more likely to be based on confidence in our army's ability to fight rather than to look beautiful on social occasions."

As the officer says, all regular officers have been ordered to buy dress blues, but it is expected that the issue of blues for enlisted men will be bought out of the regular appropriation with great benefit, no doubt, to Massachusetts. As to the rather disparaging references to the 1897 field gun, another artillery officer points out that this piece is the French 75 and insists that it will have to do until a better one comes along.

Certainly many officers do resent the rouge out of their salaries for fancy dress uniforms for social purposes when a proportion of professionals without private incomes already live in a state of genteel poverty. And it does seem a fair question whether it is more urgent to buy dress uniforms for the enlisted men, or to augment the two batteries, if that is actually all the army has, of modern anti-aircraft guns.

JUDGE STUMP

Dear Judge:
Has any candidate ever announced his entry into a political contest without saying that he was "yielding to the urgings of my fellow citizens?"

Hon. J. Tweedley Sned of Hoboken admitted outright that he was looking for a job where he could make some money. He was seeking appointment as director of the mint.

"I hear you have termites at your house."
"Yes, and they're an awful bore!"

LOS ANGELES.—Damage suits amounting to more than $1,000,000 against the city of Long Beach were predicted by the county clerk's office as a result of the disastrous pier collapse last Saturday. Hints that manslaughter charges may be filed against officials if it can be shown they allowed rotten timbers to remain in the pier also have been heard.

MARQUETTE.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt took the stand today in his libel suit against George A. Newell, editor of Iron Ore, paper published at Ishpeming, who, in an editorial, charged him with drunkenness. The former president denied the truth of the charge, but admitted using light wines with his meals. He said he never touched strong liquor except on advice of his physician and that he did not smoke nor touch beer.

MADISON, Wis.—Governor McGovern today vetoed the bill ordering a referendum in 1914 of the woman suffrage question. He objected on grounds that suffrage was defeated last November by a majority of 92,000 and that another referendum so soon "would be impractical."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—One good gauge of how serious the Germans are about getting into Czechoslovakia is that the Italians have moved troops to the border of Tunis in North Africa to work a squeeze play on France.

This is extremely significant. Inhabited by more Italians than Frenchmen, Tunis has been a sore spot in French-Italian relations, especially in recent months when Mussolini has made a specialty of stirring up the Moslem races against the French and British.

To concentrate Italian troops near the Tunisian border, therefore, means tying up the French at their own back door. This, in turn, makes it more difficult for them to move at their front door—which is Czechoslovakia.

This squeeze play undoubtedly was worked out by Hitler and Mussolini during their recent Roman love-fest. It indicates how wide of the mark the British shot in thinking they could drive a wedge between them. (Also how wide of the mark Roosevelt shot in blessing the Anglo-Italian agreement.)

Spanish Airdromes
French hands also are tied at their side door by the fact that Italy and Germany have established a row of underground airdromes in Spain just south of the French border. Located 300 feet underground, therefore impervious to bombing, these airdromes fly the Italian and German flags, and according to military observers, Spaniards are not allowed to come near.

In case France should oppose Germany in Czechoslovakia, planes from these airdromes could be over important French cities in 30 minutes. Note.—This is not the first time Mussolini has worked an international squeeze play. Last summer when the British were about to send ships from the Mediterranean to the China coast in order to tone down Japanese aggression, Il Duce started his submarine piracy campaign, thus forcing British ships to remain in Mediterranean waters.

Texas Breeze
The lives of diplomats are regular by protocol, from picking up a salary fork to making a formal call at the White House. So they were astounded when a member of congress barged into a dozen embassies last week and asked to talk with the boss.

The congressman was Maury Maverick of Texas, who knows a salary fork to making a formal call at the White House. So they were astounded when a member of congress barged into a dozen embassies last week and asked to talk with the boss.

The diplomats were delighted with him—after they caught their breath. They are accustomed to deal only with officials of the state department.

Untaxed Smokes
Although totally unaware of it, there are hundreds of thousands of jobless and aged people in all parts of the country who have a direct stake in an unnoticed six-line bill introduced the other day by Representative Harry Haines of Pennsylvania.

Haines' measure is aimed at breaking up a racket now costing a number of states between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 a year in relief and old age pension revenues. The racket is being worked on the cigarette taxes which many states enacted to produce these funds.

It works as follows: House-to-house canvassers solicit orders for cigarettes at tax-free prices. . . . The purchases are then sent to the buyer through the mails with no indication on the package of the nature of its contents or the identity of the sender.

State authorities have been trying to scotch the racket by all sorts of devices—so far unsuccessfully. For the single reason that they cannot meddle with the mails.

Early this session they proposed empowering state inspectors to examine packages in post offices. Chairman Jim Mead of the house postoffice committee vetoed this immediately. He readily conceded the need for legislation to plug up the tax loophole, but vigorously opposed any method that gave state officials authority to tamper with the mails.

Finally, after long study, Haines evolved a proposal which is very simple and may prove effective. It provides that "any parcel containing any cigarettes deposited in the United States mails for mailing or delivery shall, unless sent as a gift, be plainly marked on the outside with the word 'cigarettes' and the name and address of the sender."

ECONOMIC COOPERATION

The foreign policy of a nation can never be a thing apart from the conditions under which the people of that nation live. I want America to make the greatest possible contribution to world peace which is consistent with her own peace. And I want us to be able to use our trade and commerce as a force making always for peace and world economic cooperation and never for war. Today we can do this to only a very limited extent on account of certain conditions in our own country. Let me explain.

Nations become frightened and warlike when they are insecure. There are two ways to be insecure. One is fear of a foreign country. Another is not to know whether you are going to be able to earn a living in your own country. As long as you have poverty and unemployment at home it is going to be very, very hard to bring about cooperation with other nations.

Once a sense of security is established here we shall be able to view our foreign relations with much better judgment. At present we suffer from the naive idea that the more valuable raw materials, manufactured products or farm crops we can ship out of the country the better off we are, and the fewer of these things we bring into the country the better off we are. From 1914 to 1929 we literally gave away $22,000,000,000 of buying power to foreign countries in loans that will never be repaid in order to get them to buy our goods. We never were repaid nor did we make any friends abroad. But we got rid of a lot of goods which our own people needed, which apparently was the idea—Congressman Jerry Voorhis in a radio address.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our opinion. Public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 250 words. The editor reserves the right to shorten all letters in excess of that length.

WOMEN OF THE PACIFIC

To the Editor: People who have visited other parts of the United States say that nowhere in this country have they found people as lethargic and self-satisfied as we are here in Southern California.

"You'll have to admit that when anyone seeks to arouse us to the dangers that threaten our traditional freedom and our form of government that all too many citizens shrug their shoulders and say or think, 'There's another crank. Everything's all right here, so why worry?'"

And we go to our clubs and card parties and blissfully ignore the signs of the gathering storm clouds as the closed shop labor leader racketeers burn an honest man's produce because he refuses to join their union and pour gasoline on another's vegetables for the same reason. These same industrial brigands forbid the owner to unload his own wares and exhort an exorbitant "fee" for doing it.

And we sit by calmly and take it!

Governor Merriam in his speech at the golden jubilee in Orange a few weeks ago said that we citizens of the United States have a right under the constitution to stop these racketeers, and he said we must use this right to save our state from these racketeers, most of whom are Communists.

Governor Merriam did not say how to rid ourselves of this blight and I must admit that if I had heard this speech a year ago, I would have asked, "How can we do it?"

Do you know how we can put a stop to this evil?

I do. We women are going to do it.

Now you'll surely say, "You're crazy. What have the women ever done in a political way?"

Do you know that the women spend 35 cents out of every dollar for food? Doesn't money talk?

If we know of an organization that maintains a closed shop, do we have to patronize it?

What we women are really doing is this: We are in the name of our organization, "Women of the Pacific," putting out an initiative that we'll be asked to sign on Flag day. This document proposes the regulation and incorporation of all unions in the state of California.

And what's the good of that? If the unions must incorporate then they will be liable for their leaders' misdeeds. The unions will come under the same category as other corporations.

Shall we let this racketeering, creating price-fixing monopolies in household necessities and laying tribute on the home, so on?

The women who have banded together and are sponsoring this initiative are representing housewives from all walks of life. Thousands of women over the state of California have joined this organization to protect our homes and our breadwinners.

MRS. J. F. MUELLER, Orange, Calif. May 28.

MONOPOLY

Joseph Chamberlain, the English statesman and one-time prime minister, who presided of the board of trade, was one day in Paris. Walking by a florist's shop, he was attracted by a beautiful orchid priced at 500 francs. He walked in. "Is this particular orchid at all common in France?" he asked. "On the contrary," said the florist, "no one has it except myself, and I have had it only a short time. Chamberlain took out his wallet, gave the man 500 francs, tore the orchid to pieces, and trampled it under his feet. "The truth is," he said, "that I, too, have one of that kind at home, and do not wish anyone else in Europe to have another."

This is the true story of a boy who was always being fired.

He was fired from a dance hall on the Boston waterfront because he couldn't play the piano loud enough. He taped his fingers and asked the proprietor to give him another try, but he was fired, anyway. The man said he would never get anywhere in music.

He was fired by Roxie, the theater man, who said he didn't know much about music but wasn't up to the Roxie standard. The Shuberts, the theatrical producers, fired him. Said they wanted a good man.

He got a job in a church. The church fired him. Said he didn't know much about music but wasn't up to the Roxie standard. The Shuberts, the theatrical producers, fired him. Said they wanted a good man.

He got a job in a church. The church fired him. Said he didn't know much about music but wasn't up to the Roxie standard. The Shuberts, the theatrical producers, fired him. Said they wanted a good man.

He got a job in a church. The church fired him. Said he didn't know much about music but wasn't up to the Roxie standard. The Shuberts, the theatrical producers, fired him. Said they wanted a good man.

He wanted to go to college, but he didn't have any money. But he took care of that. He got a job waiting on the table and washing dishes. As he washed dishes, he thought of himself leading a great orchestra. One day he picked up a long cook spoon and was leading an orchestra of his imagination when the boss came in and fired him. The boss said he didn't want people in his kitchen who had crazy ideas.

He got another job washing dishes. Also he played at the motion picture theater. The rest of the story he studied. Now and then he slept.

But he did put himself through college, and never once, under any circumstance did he give up the idea of being a conductor.

He worked hard. There were no spare moments for him. He was not so spent on music work spent searching for opportunity to present his music. Finally, calls began to come in. Cleveland wanted him to direct, so did Detroit. Then came a call from Rome, then Berlin.

He wanted to direct the works of the great Jean Sibelius in Finland where Sibelius lived. At last an invitation came from Helsingfors.

Days and days of rehearsal. He did not know the language, but he did know music, and he made his Helsingfors audience feel what he felt. Then came the night! Sibelius was there, and the greatest of the great of Finland. The audience went wild with applause, and shouted his name with that of Sibelius.

When it was all over and he left the opera house, crowds were waiting to see him. His automobile—where was it? Finally he found it covered with flowers! When he at last drove away, the people shot shouting his name and throwing flowers after him.

He forgot about how many times he had been fired.

He now gets a thousand dollars a night.

Remarkable Remarks

We should have adjourned long ago. The country would have been a lot better off.

—Senator Carter Glass.

It is impossible, either physically or biologically, for men and women to be labeled "equal" in all things. Mentally, women will challenge the masculine mind to any heights.

—Mrs. Roberta C. Lawson, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The people must believe in the courts if we are to have a representative, democratic government.

—Arthur Vanderbilt, president of the American Bar Association.

The bar draws its clean skirts aside as it passes the Criminal Courts building, and its ablest members are rarely, if ever, seen there from one year's end to the next.

—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

I'LL TELL YOU.....

By BOB BURNS

I haven't anything about fortune tellers or anybody else that I don't know any more about than I do else. If I did, I wouldn't be tippin' 'em off that Hollywood is such a rich field for their line of work.

The other day, out here, an actress announced her engagement to a fella who she'd only known for a week. When her friends told her she was takin' some awful chances, the actress says, "Oh, no I'm not—I wouldn't go into marriage recklessly like that—I've consulted seven palmists and they all say it's all right."
